U. S. To Help Austria Solve DP Problem

Nixon Feels America Should Admit More Hungarian Refugees

VIENNA, (AP) — President Eisenhower today promised the United States would do everything in its power to help solve the problem created by hordes of Hungarian refugees crowding Austria and still crossing through the Iron Curtain to freedom.

The President's promise was contained in a letter delivered by Vice President Richard M. Nixon to Austrian Chancellor Julius Raab shortly before the American official set out on a visit to refugee camps not far from the border.

A high official source said Nixon already believed the United States should admit more Hungarians. Eisenhower has ordered 21,500 admitted by the end of the year.

Eisenhower in his letter to Raab said Nixon was acting as his personal representative in an effort to find a solution of a problem which had deeply touched the American people — the flight of more than 140,000 Hungarians in search of protection.

Nixon, the president went on, will study the living conditions of the refugees in Austrian camps and talk with responsible Austrian officials in an effort to find the full extent of the problem and recommend further steps by the United States.

Nixon saw Raab briefly to deliver the letter shortly after he had paid his respects to Austria's 83-year-old President Theodor Koerner.

After his round of courtesy visits, Nixon was driven to Burgenland Province only 10 miles from where the Hungarians are crossing into this country.

Nixon said on his arrival that he hoped "to obtain as accurate information as is possible under the circumstances as to the number of refugees the United States should be prepared to receive." He added that "we are fully determined to do our full share in meeting the needs which have grown out of the refugee problem."

Austrian officials not only want the United States to take more of the refugees straining the facilities of this little country but also want Washington to give additional financial aid for those who remain. About 70,000 refugees are believed still in Austria and from 500 to 1,000 are still arriving daily.

New School To Cost More Than Estimate

Ike, Nehru Say Their Talks Brought About 'Broad Area Of Agreement'

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower and Prime Minister Nehru said today their talks here had confirmed a "broad area of agreement" between India and the United States in world affairs.

The two national leaders summed up the results of Nehru's four-day visit here in a communique issued at the White House.

Simultaneously Nehru himself, at National Airport before taking off on the first leg of his trip home, said the talks with Eisenhower had strengthened Indian - American "bonds of friendship and understanding."

The statement from the White House said Eisenhower and Nehru had gained "greater understanding" of each other's policy. It added that this would promate their efforts to achieve international peace and friendship.

Eisenhower and Nehru held their last conversation at the Indian Embassy Wednesday night. Eisenhower was Nehru's dinner guest there and they talked for more than an hour.

Today Nehru headed for meetings with United Nations officials and American friends in New York, after which he will spend a weekend in Canada. Eisenhower's personal plane was put at his disposal for the trip.

The joint statement preserved the official cloak of secrecy which has surrounded the Eisenhower Nehru talks from their beginning Sunday.

Nonetheless, high U. S. officials familiar with the issues taken up, said that the conferences had been very successful from the American viewpoint.

Nehru also appeared to feel that he had achieved his objectives in meeting with the President.

The formal statement reported that the talks were "full and frank". It affirmed the support of the two leaders for "the highest principles of free democracy." It emphasized that India and the United States share a common devotion to "respect for the dignity of man."

This ast point appeared to be one way of saying that while Nehru is neutral as between the Soviet and Western power blocs he is not neutral on the basic issue of communism.

Board Opens Bids On New Senior High

Cost To Range From $2,125,875 To $2,171,527

The new Salem senior high school will cost between $2,125,875 and $2,171,527, it appeared today, after bids on the project were opened by the Salem Board of Education at noon yesterday.

Architects Krinsky, Dela Motte & Assoc. of Cleveland said today, after computing the figures, that if the board decides on deducting some items the cost would run $2,125,875 but that if the board includes everything it had called for, the cost will reach $2,171,527.

The architects said that the cost per cubic foot would therefore range from $1.01 per cubic foot at the lowest, to $1.03 per cubic foot at the highest.

Lowest bidder on the general contract was Freeman Construction Co., of Wooster, with a bid of $1,525,000 plus an additional $65,000 for an enlarged industrial shop wing which the board had decided to include in the building.

This brought their total low bid for the general contract to $1,590,000.

The Harry Dougherty & Son, Inc. of Youngstown was low bidder on both the heating and ventilating work and the plumbing contract. Dougherty's low bid on the heating and ventilating was $192,300, plus $11,000 to add the five bays to the enlarged shop wing. Their bid on the plumbing was $155,800 and $3,900 for the plumbing in the enlarged wing for a total of $159,700.

The Einheit Electric Construction Co. of Parma was low bidder on the electrical contract with a bid of $182,430 plus an additional $10,628 for the shop wing addition, a total of $193,058.

Board members emphasize that the larger shop wing was intended as a part of the general contract, although it appeared on the bid sheets as an alternate proposal.

Low bidder for an elevator was the Plunger Lift Co. of Columbus, $9,656.

For the folding partition in the gymnasium, the C. M. Eichenlaub Co of Pittsburgh submitted the low bid of $10,686.

Board Awaits Report

The board has instructed school business manager Darrel M. Fadely to inspect other work done by the low bidding contractors and report back to the board.

President Alfred Fitch said the board probably will meet sometime between Christmas and New Year's to let the contracts.

Construction of the high school is expected to start in the spring.

Voters in November, 1955, approved a $2,585,000 bond issue for the construction of the new school and for renovation of the present high school into a three-year junior high school.

Architects' estimates for the cost of the school were $2 million but Ray Dela Motte said that the bids received Wednesday were about exactly what they had anticipated.

Other bidders on the high school project included:

Fugitive From Ohio Killing Wounded In New York Battle

NEW YORK (AP)—A Bronx cab driver was near death today with bullet wounds police say were inflicted by a fugitive in an Ohio killing who tried to hold up the driver in his cab Wednesday night.

Police identified the fugitive as Leroy (Frisco) Keith, 42, a Negro, of the Bronx. Keith was cut down by five bullets in a running gun battle with police during which more than two dozen shots were fired. Keith also was in critical condition in a hospital today.

Keith's alleged accomplice, James T. (Cisco) Morris, 22, a Negro, of Riverhead, N. Y., was captured uninjured after allegedly exchanging several shots with pursuing policemen. He was booked on charges of assault and robbery.

Police said Keith, Morris and two Negro women Wednesday night entered the cab of David Suro, 47-year-old father of five children, and directed him to drive to Keith's home.

Police said Keith then ordered Suro to hand over his money. Suro crashed his cab into a police car.

Police said Keith and his companions jumped out of the cab and Keith wheeled and snapped two shots through the right front window of the taxi, wounding Suro in the chest and abdomen.

Keith shot wildly at the two occupants of the police car, police said, and dashed away. Other policemen touring the area, including an off duty patrolman, joined in the pursuit.

Police said Keith was overtaken as he crouched under a parked automobile with the muzzle of his Russian-made, .30-caliber eight-shot automatic resting on the curb in front of a laundry.

As they approached Keith, police said, he fired and narrowly missed a police sergeant. Police said they opened fire and five bullets hit Keith.

While undergoing emergency treatment preparatory to surgery, police said, Keith ripped an inhalator mask from his face and

Hungarians Re-Establish Internment

BUDAPEST (AP) —The Russian-backed Hungarian government has re-established the dreaded internment system under which thousands of people were jailed without trial during the Stalin era.

A decree issued by the presidential council said that "persons whose activity or behavior endangers public order, especially production, can be placed under detention of public security." The maximum detention period was set at six months.

Special significance is attached to the portion of the decree which specifies that anyone who interferes with production can be interned without trial. This gives Premier Janos Kadar's regime a legal weapon for breaking any kind of strike. The government still has in jail two leaders of the Budapest Central Workers' Council who ordered a two-day general strike last week.

Because of a severe shortage of coal and power, the Kadar government has cut work in the steel and machine building industries to three days a week. Simultaneously thousands of idle factory workers were ordered to public construction projects to rebuild homes and business buildings damaged during the anti-Russian revolt.

The present condition is one of creeping paralysis through the country's industry. But peace appeared to be settling over the troubled country.

Kadar was quoted by the Communist East German news agency ADN as telling Eastern bloc correspondents in Budapest that his forces are getting strong enough to suppress rebellion without Russian assistance.

May Call FBI Into Mahoning Vote Case

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—William L. Coleman, state Democratic chairman, indicated Wednesday he may ask the secretary of state to call in the FBI to aid in a Mahoning County vote fraud investigaton.

He said he has urged Secretary of State Ted W. Brown to expand the investigation to cover all aspects of the Mahoning County election, "but not with a view toward attempting to change any election resuts."

The FBI might be called in, Coleman said, because the irregularities took place in a national election.

Coleman's talk with Brown came after the Mahoning County election board reported in Youngstown it had found "concusive evidence of flagrant fraud" in counting the Nov. 6 ballots. Officials said some of the ballots had been marked by more than one person.

Mental Patient Who Kidnaped Bride Is Captured, Injured

DENVER (AP)—An escaped California mental patient who kidnaped his teen-age bride at gunpoint was captured in Denver early today after a roaring police chase through deserted streets.

Mike Wiegner, 16, and his bride, Clo Ann Mowatt Kiegner, 17, were in a Denver hospital for injuries suffered when the fleeing kidnap car hurtled into a West Denver gulch. Mrs. Wiegner was on the critical list from a possible skull fracture and internal hurts. Wiegner suffered scalp wounds.

Police squads prowled the city looking for a scar-faced Indian named Jesse Eastman, alias Jesse Red Cloud, 35, who Wiegner said made the trip from California with him.

A .22 caliber rifle was found in the smashed escape car. Eastman, apparently not seriously hurt, fled in the darkness. Police said they did not know if he was armed.

The Indian, known also as "Chief" was described by Wiegner as "gun-happy."

It was a wild ending to a romance which began last month when Clo Ann and Mike eloped to Montana and were married. When they returned to California, the girl was placed temporarily in a juvenile home and Wiegner in Napa State Hospital as a mental patient. Later she returned to her parents at Daley City, near San Francisco.

Last Monday Wiegner, declared a problem child at 14, broke out Napa State Hospital and went to Daly City. Brandishing a gun, he took Clo Ann from the home.

16 Runaway Freight Cars Hit Train

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP)— Sixteen runaway freight cars plowed into a mail train Wednesday night and a diesel engine and three of the freight cars tumbled 15 feet into a downtown parking lot.

The engine's fireman was killed. Two other railroad men were injured.

The runaway cars, all loaded, raced four miles down a grade before ramming the mail train, which was entering the Delaware. Lackawanna and Western depot.

Fireman Thomas Hale, 56, Syracuse, died in a Syracuse hospital a few hours after being removed from the wreck of the diesel.

The accident occurred at the height of an early-evening, Christmas shopping rush.

At least 10 automobiles in the crowded parking lot were crushed under the engine and freight cars.

Six other freight cars were scattered about the tracks.

The diesel engine had been pushing four mail cars into the depot. A policeman estimated the freight cars were traveling 70 miles an hour when they hit the mail train.

R. W. Jones, superintendent of the Scranton Division of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western, said reports would be sought from six men who had been switching freight cars at sidings outside the city. Jones said "somehow the 16 got loose."

Nicholson was indicted on the larceny charge by the September Grand Jury. He had been indicted for burglary in Stark County in April by the Stark County Grand Jury and was placed on probation in the county.

Author Freed Of Contempt Citation

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U. S. Court of Appeals today struck down the contempt of Congress conviction of author Harvey O'Connor, who refused to tell Senate investigators whether he was a "member of the Communist conspiracy."

O'Connor was asked the question before the Senate Investigaheaded by Sen. McCarthy (R - Wis).

The question which O'Connor refused to answer was "whether he was a member of the Communist conspiracy" when he wrote certain books which had been purchased by the State Department for distribution to U. S. information centers overseas.

In reversing the conviction, the court said the question asked of O'Connor was "so imprecise and ambiguous" that his refusal to answer was not a crime.

O'Connor, in refusing to answer, relied on the First Amendment which guarantees freedom of speech, press and assembly.

Ishibashi Favors Aid With Red China

TOKYO (AP) — Tanzan Ishibashi, 72-year-old new president of the Liberal - Democratic party, was elected prime minister of Japan today. He advocates continued cooperation with the United States and other Western countries, but more trade with Communist China.

Ishibashi succeeds Ichiro Hatoyama, who resigned with his Cabinet earlier today in preparation for the vote in the House of Representatives. The lower house of the Japanese Diet gave Ishibashi 291 votes to 150 for Mosaburo Suzuki, leader of the opposition Socialist part.

Hatoyama, 73, retired as Liberal-Democratic leader Dec. 14 because of bad health. He said his two years in office had achieved his two major goals: reopening diplomatic relations with Russia and the admission of Japan to the United Nations.

Twenty - six members of the Diet's 467-member lower house were absent when today's vote was taken. Among them was Foreign Minister Mamoru Shigemitsu, now in New York where he went to attend Japan's induction into the U.N. Tuesday.

Shigemitsu, a former prime minister, submitted his resignation along with the rest of Hatoyama's Cabinet. He is believed out of the running for the Foreign Ministry in the new government.

The makeup of the new government is not expected for a day or two.

Although the new Prime Minister wants to continue cooperation with Washington, he advocates some "adjustment" in relations with the United States. He also favors increased trade with Red China and Southeast Asia, easier credit, and more government spending.

Ishibashi, son of a Buddhist priest, is Japan's sixth prime minister since World War II. He is an economist and journalist who has had a stormy career since he entered politics after the war.

Mary---'Thou Art Highly Favored'

EDITOR'S NOTE — This is the fourth in a series of eight studies of the birth and times of Christ. It portrays Mary, blessed among women, on the night of the Nativity.

By GEORGE CORNELL
(AP Newsfeatures)

MARY

A beetle crept upward on the stone wall. In the pale lantern light, the young woman watched it. She lay on a straw pallet. The beetle moved slowly. It seemed to take a long time to move a finger's breadth.

Mary smiled dreamily. Poor little beetle. You have to climb so far and so hard. But it will not be long now. You will make it. All is well, blessedly well.

Never had she known a stable was so wondrously comforting.

Just outside the entrance, Joseph stood outlined against the night, a dark, steadfast sentry. From beyond came the faint singing of crickets. Mary breathed evenly. A blissful warmth pervaded her whole being.

Keep going, little beetle. You can do it. You clasp the hewn stone so valiantly, searching ahead with your tiny legs. Do not be fearful. Our shelter here is good and pleasant.

MARY LET HER EYES rove about the stall. The lantern flame, sheathed in hareskin, cast a mellow glow. She would always cherish this quiet, secure place, its sturdy, soiled walls.

None of this night would ever leave her.

She had been relieved beyond words when Joseph found this refuge, at last, after his unavailing entreaties at the inn. Good Joseph. He had not known how spent the journey left her. The stable had been as welcome as a palace.

And all the marveling days before . . . Ever since the divine message had come that she would bear a Son, not by man, but of God, her soul had magnified the Lord. He chose her — a lowly village girl — as his handmaiden!

"Thou are highly favored . . ." How mystifying those words had been. That it would be she, poor, of no rank, of humble habit.

Hold tight, little one. Indomitable beetle, straining upward, hugging the stone.

EVERY PASSING MOMENT, every thing around, seemed highly precious. Lying there, wrapped in a wollen shawl, with the soft fragrant bed of straw, Mary could feel at moments the very core of her life hurtling toward some poignant fulfillment, then dissolving into pure serenity.

Nothing, nothing at all, remained of the agitation in which she had hastened to her cousin's house, after first learning she would bear a holy Son. Elizabeth had understood at once. "Blessed art thou among women . . ."

In time, Joseph also understood. Though older, his joy had become as boundless as hers as the time neared. She had spent the days plainly — weaving, grinding grain, drying fruit — but with a bright treasure in her heart.

Now, in this soothing haven, with light swaying on the rafters, and her good husband at call, she drifted at intervals in vivid heights and delicious reverie.

Waves of happiness flowed over her like music, ebbing and swelling. She found herself gazing mistily at the beetle again. It had traversed two more stones and still struggled heroically. Do not give up little beetle. There is not far to go.

-:-

THE STABLE, the night, the world itself seemed to be expanding around her, and the lantern light was more alive. She felt as if she were floating, rising, until she almost touched the very heavens. Almost . . .

The rapture came back over her again, like warm surf.

Then suddenly her eyes were open and she was staring directly across the room at a cow, placidly chewing, her eyes big and kind. Mary gazed at her fondly. The cow was so friendly, such a close companion.

Sweet night! Good stable! Dear creatures of God!

Excitement was gathering in her, gathering slowly, increasing, gathering steadily and more swiftly.

She could not hear the crickets any more, but a stronger, greater rhapsody was ringing out. Her eyes were closed. Her lips moved rapidly in prayer. Her heart filled until it seemed almost bursting. She felt lifted up, up, up in an infinite design, a part of the miracle of all creation, sharing a secret with God. And the stars raced by.

-:-

THEN, ALL WAS STILL. The night was silent.

"Joseph!"

A new-born Baby Boy puckered up his face and let out His first cry.

Joseph already was beside her, and she was looking up at him, and crying a little bit herself, but smiling, too, and she saw he also was crying, and it seemed so very foolish, because she could not be happier, and she doubted if he could be, either, but she looked at the Baby, and burst out crying all over again.

"Blessed Mary," Joseph kept saying. "Praise God!" He was saying first one and then the other.

She took some swaddling cloth they had brought, and wrapped the Baby, and laid him in a manger.

Mary smiled at Him, shaking her head, but the tears kept coming, and she could not help it.

It must have been a long time before she looked up and saw that the beetle had made it to the high ledge.

"AND THERE WERE shepherds in the same country abiding in the field, and keeping watch over their flocks. And an angel of the Lord stood by them, and the glory of the Lord shone round about them: and they were sore afraid.

"And the angel said unto them, be not afraid; for behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy which shall be to all the people: for there is born to you this day in the city of David a Savior, which is Christ the Lord.

"And this is the sign unto: Ye shall find a Babe wrapped in swaddling clothes, and lying in a manger. And suddenly, there was with the angel a multitude of the heavenly host praising God and saying, Glory to God in the highest, and on earth, peace, good will to men."

More than 900 CWA workers are covered by the new contract that goes into effect Dec. 25.

How To Make Go Stay Is Problem In Toledo

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — How to make Go stay is a problem occupying a lot of Toledoans these days.

Actually, Go doesn't want to leave, but the government says he must.

Go is Marcos Go, a Chinese citizens from Cebu City in the Phillippines now employed as a biochemist at St. Vincent's Hospital.

The 29-year-old Chinese came here as a student three years ago and has been working at the hospital for a year. His work has been such that hospital officials feel they can't get along without him.

Deportation proceedings began after Go applied for a permanent visa. That action automatically cancelled the student visa with which he came here.

A group of Americans now are trying to qualify him as an "alien whose services are urgently needed in the United States." A similar approach to the immigration laws kept Go's brother, Mateo, here as an engineer for a steel company.

Gay Yule Package Scares Post Office

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) —A gaily-wrapped Christmas package was moved quickly from the post office to an alley Wednesday after startled parcel handlers heard it buzzing.

While demolition experts were being summoned to look at what some people thought was a bomb, up the alley came street cleaner Joseph Kinczeyk, 67.

To Kinczeyk, the box was litter, and as is his custom, he proceeded to take it apart to haul it away.

Inside, he found a battery-powered hand vacuum sweeper, its motor apparently started by a bump.

Post office personnel said the package would be delivered.

"Goober" is another name for the peanut in the South. The word is a corruption of the Congo "nguba" and apparently was introduced into the South by Negro slaves from the Congo.

A Most Unusual Man

House Speaker Roger Cloud Is An Eloquent Gentleman

EDITOR'S NOTE — This is the fourth of five articles on the people and problems likely to be in the news as the Republicans take 100 per cent control of Ohio's capitol for the first time in 28 years.

By ART PARKS

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The easy way to do it would be to say Ohio House Speaker Roger Cloud is a most unusual man.

But that would give no one a real picture of the third man who — with Gov.-elect C. William O'Neill and Senate Majority Leader C. Stanley Mechem—will be piloting the state of Ohio over the financial shoals in the months just ahead.

The speaker of the House, traditionally and ceremoniously, recognizes a member who wishes to address the House as: "The gentleman from. . . ."

But no time-honored ceremony would be involved in Cloud's case. Almost without exception, his fellow House members think of him, truly, as: "The Gentleman from Logan County."

Even though his medium-sized frame seems always on the go, the prematurely gray speaker always seems to have time to be polite. That trait is not entirely unknown in legislative halls, but it becomes rarer as tense sessions warm up.

The second shocker about Roger Cloud is when he begins to talk.

In this age of sloppy diction, Cloud's clipped, almost letter-perfect speech is astonishing; his command of the language is almost awe-inspiring.

He isn't content with the almost-correct word to express his thoughts; he wants the exact word and without pausing or stumbling, he reaches into his vast vocabulary and finds it.

Sometimes the words he digs from the recesses of his mind are total strangers to many House members, but they manage to get the drift of what he's talking about.

As House leader, Cloud has problems his Senate counterpart — C. Stanley Mechem — doesn't have. The difference is largely one of numbers. Cloud has roughly four times as many Republican members to "handle" as does Mechem.

That means four times as many personal contacts—little conferences in which Cloud may placate, scold, bolster or cajole one or several members as circumstances dictate.

The speaker celebrated his 46th birthday early this month as he prepared to start his second term as House leader.

He is one of the most diligent laborers in legislative halls of any recent speakers.

Cloud intended to be a lawyer. He was a successful schoolboy debater and enrolled in a pre-law course at Ohio State University after graduating from high school at 15. But a gasoline station explosion claimed his brother's life and Roger found it necessary to return to his family's farm to help out.

The legal studies continued by way of a correspondence course but with Cloud it was only a labor of love. He never took the state bar examination.

Cloud operates a 550-acre farm within two miles of his birthplace. He also has a major interest in Cloud & Alverneiso, Inc., specialized construction contractors, with headquarters in Bellefontaine.

In this day, stories are not supposed to have morals appended. But for the wiseacres who contend a "nice guy" has two strikes on him in this world and cannot make the grade, take the word of Ohio's law-makers:

"Roger's doing all right."

Next: Clear sailing? Ohio's all-GOP "team" will have its problems, too.

Woman Freed Of Slaying Charge

CLEVELAND (AP)—A pretty, 25-year-old mother who fatally shot her police chief husband alternately wept and smiled her relief Wednesday night when a jury found her innocent of a first degree manslaughter charge.

Rising from her chair, Mrs. Kathryn Trosper hugged defense attorney A. H. Dudnik who presented her argument that she shot her husband in fear and self defense.

Last June 15, she shot Raymond Trosper, police chief of Lundhurst, as he sat on the floor of their bedroom, putting on his shoes.

Mrs. Trosper, who was six months pregnant at the time, testified her husband had punched her in the stomach and threatened to kill her. She said he insisted on taking their 5-year-old son, Michael for an automobile ride and that she feared for the boy's safety.

TEACHERS' PAY HIKE URGED

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A one-third salary boost for Ohio's college teachers was called for Wednesday in a report by the Council of State Universities of Ohio. The council represents Miami University, Ohio University, Kent State, Bowling Green, Central State and Ohio State Universities, all members of the American Assn. of University Professors.

Equality At Gettysburg

The president of the United States and the prime minister of India met as equals in Washington and Gettysburg.

They could have met as equals in Detroit or New Orleans, although the prime minister is a man of color.

But Prime Minister Nehru's awareness of President Eisenhower's lack of prejudice went deeper than color. He was in the presence of a man whose sense of equality is so vital and alert it caused him to offend Britain and France by challenging their gunboat imperialism against Egypt in the Suez crisis.

Americans mistrust Prime Minister Nehru and his government because it has not stood resolutely with the United States against the Soviet Union in the cold war. They think of the world as bilateral — U.S. vs. U.S.S.R.

Perhaps it is.

But it could never look that way to the prime minister of India, who speaks in behalf of a third of a billion people directly and more than a billion indirectly. From where he looks at the world, its center is southern Asia and the vast continent of Africa.

Internation power politics to an Asiatic is not a contest between Americans and Russians, but a balance between upsurging nationalities and the colonial powers which once dominated them.

The discovery that the United States is not allied with the colonial powers sympathetic with the upsurging nationalities has given Prime Minister Nehru and men like him much to think about — even more to think about than it has given to European diplomats who forgot that the United States, itself, once was an upsurging nationality movement.

Man In The Middle

Dag Hammarskjold now has more back-seat advice than a bus driver. But it may turn out that the secretary-general of the United Nations is not the helpless victim of circumstances that his critics say he is.

What appears to them to be evidence of confusion may be evidence of patience, instead. And what appears to be a policy of knuckling under to Egypt's awful Nasser may be, instead, a policy of refusing to knuckle under to people who will not forgive the United Nations for remembering that Egypt was entitled to the same rights as any other member when it was attacked.

Secretary Hammarskjold has spiked the latest ruse to make it appear that the Suez Canal cannot exist without Britain and France. A U.S. salvage fleet, he has announced, will be entirely capable of doing the work that the British-French salvage fleet hoped it would be asked to do. Therefore, the British and French can take their salvage fleet with them when they leave Suez.

Before U.N. intervention, the Suez problem supposedly was going to be made insoluble with withdrawal of British and French pilots. That didn't work, either.

The idea gradually is being developed that the Suez Canal can get along all right without the two countries which exploited it for so many decades they thought they were indispensable.

Our Own Recipe

For those who wish for "an old-fashioned Christmas," what could be worse than for their wish to come true?

The old-fashioned Christmas was just another short day in December. It has been preceded by no buildup and was followed by no letdown. There was no jollity. There was no generosity. There was none of the "magic" which becomes so palpable that miracles are plausible.

The religious connotation was honored meagerly, if at all. The Puritans who left their grim stamp on America once made a rule that all shops and markets should remain open on Dec. 25 and anyone caught in gaiety would be fined.

Christmas trees and decorations were looked at askance as lately as the beginning of this century. Besides being tainted with paganism, they were a fire hazard in the open-flame era of light. The thousand and one things routinely bought and bestowed as presents were only beginning to come into existence. A single orange in the toe of a stocking might be a child's most treasured gift. In remote places—anywhere more than 20 miles from a town—there was no Christmas music, nothing to mark the dreary month of December from the dreary month of January.

Christmas is made according to a modern American recipe, not an old recipe. It is unique in the whole world; nowhere else do so many people become enmeshed so completely in an elaborate plot to thwart bad will, sour cynics and the worst side of human nature.

Anyone wishing for an old-fashioned Christmas should specify how old-fashioned it should be.

In every card game a good deal always depends on a good deal.

Home is not where little kids hang their things, but where they toss them most any place.

Record of Duplicity

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Any Gain From Nehru's Visit Seen Doubtful

David Lawrence

Personal conferences between heads of states have assumed an exaggerated importance in recent years — and the most striking example of this is the meeting between Prime Minister Nehru and President Eisenhower.

Where there is no fundamental trust by one government in the other, where there is evidence of duplicity and betrayal of the principles of international morality, there can hardly be a foundation for anything more than high-sounding communiques and the exchange of the usual words of diplomatic courtesy.

Nehru poses as a great humanitarian and as a champion of the cause of anti-colonialism in the world but he showed a callous indifference to the brutality of Soviet colonialism in Hungary when he refused last week to support a United Nations resolution condemning the Soviet for what her troops had done in that ill-fated country.

For basically India — not the people but their government — under the influence of Nehru has played a double game in the world.

THE FACTS are in the record and the effort to bring Nehru here to try to give him the American point of view is the last desperate effort of those American advisers who still believe that by some miracle — perhaps by more financial aid from the United States — a leopard in world politics can be made to change his spots and become a friend of the United States.

Nehru is a well-educated man and well informed about the techniques of Western politics and Western diplomacy. He is capable of playing both ends against the middle and is a master of the double-talk which diplomats use when expediency dictates it.

Most American officials, including many members of Congress, feel that Nehru is basically and fundamentally pro-Communist and is playing the game of Moscow as well as Peking all the time.

His behavior in the Korean armistice negotiations could not have been any more partisan in behalf of the Soviets if he had represented them directly. American military officers have since revealed in their memoirs the disheartening story of the Panmunjom betrayal of the U.S. cause by Nehru.

-:-

THE CHRONOLOGICAL story of Nehru's voting in the United Nations, as handled by his emissary, is revealing. Here it is:

Oct. 21, 1952 —Nehru abstained from voting on a motion demanded by the Soviet Union to investigate charges that the United States used germ warfare in Korea. The free world unhesitatingly voted against it.

March 26, 1953 — When the Communists accused the U.S. of "spying" behind the iron curtain and the resolution was defeated by the votes of the free world, Nehru abstained from voting.

March 27, 1953 — when the Soviet Union again demanded a hearing on charges that the United States had used germ warfare in Korea, Nehru voted with the Soviet bloc in favor of the motion, which was defeated by the votes of the free world.

Dec. 3, 1953 — When a U.S. resolution was offered in the U.N. assembly to condemn Red atrocities which had caused 30,000 deaths in Korea and the resolution was adopted by the free world, Nehru abstained from voting.

DEC. 10, 1954 — When the general assembly condemned the Red China government for holding war prisoners in violation of the Korean armistice and the communist bloc voted against the resolution, Nehru abstained from voting.

Nov. 4, 1946 — When the U.S. assembly adopted a resolution to send U.N. observers to Hungary, the Soviet bloc voted against it and Nehru abstained.

Nov. 9, 1956 — When the U.N. Assembly passed a resolution denouncing Soviet intervention in Hungary and demanding that Soviet troops be withdrawn and free elections held, India was the only supposedly "non-Communist government" in the world to vote against the resolution.

Nov. 21, 1956 — When the General Assembly demanded that Soviet troops withdraw from Hungary and U.N. observers be permitted to enter and that deportations of Hungarian patriots be stopped, Nehru supported only the section on observers but abstained from voting on the other two parts of the resolution relating to troop withdrawal and deportations.

Dec. 4, 1956 — When the General Assembly repeated the demand for withdrawal of Soviet troops from Hungary and the entry of U.N. observers, the Societ bloc voted against the resolution and Nehru abstained.

DEC. 12, 1956 — When the most important action in the recent history of the U.N. was voted by the free world and the Soviet Union was "condemned" for what it did in Hungary, the Communist bloc opposed the resolution and Nehru abstained.

Five times in the last five years Nehru has voted with the Soviet Union against the motions adopted postponing action on the question of admitting Red China to the United Nations and this notwithstanding that the U.N. in 1951 formally declared Red China an "aggressor" in Korea.

It is such a record which many Americans feel cannot be erased by official luncheons, banquets and the necessary hospitality extended to ministers of foreign governments.

It's All Free

By TRUMAN TWILL

The thing about the materialistic Christmas — the one that produces the Christmas presents — which fascinates me is the way it ties up loose ends.

Most of us merely use Christmas as an excuse to make an expenditure we would have made anyway but had been putting off in the hope we could sneak it through without undue attention.

Like the self-starter for the little tractor that I had been intending to buy the very first time I turned over a stone and found the money hidden there...

They are going to give it to me for a Christmas present. "They" are the lovely people who have stood around grinning and making jokes for the last three years while an aging specimen who never was muscular in the first place spavined himself starting the tractor by hand.

I have something pretty nice in mind to put under the tree too — a jim-dandy can-opener, to replace the old one that has been on the fritz since long before fly season started last fall.

It could have been installed and half worn out by this time. But holding it in reserve and building up a strong demand for a can-opener that will work turns a routine expenditure into an observance of the materialistic Christmas.

Thus it goes with new brooms, socks, wraparounds, belts, ties and shirts and appliances that brighten the materialistic Christmas. This is not to suggest that all the fiddle-faddle and jizz-jazz people are given is utilitarian. But if a doll finds a mutation mink in her Christmas doublet, you can be sure she would have had it by Washington's birthday anyhow.

In other words, the forthcoming January bills are not a net addition to spending. If the materialistic Christmas had not developed, something exactly like it would have to be invented to keep the channels of trade from undergoing an economic occulusion.

The clever little Japanese have invented a Christmas of their own and whoop it up each year with Hon. Claus and so very nicely reindeer just like big Yankee-san in land where cash register never go sleepy-bye.

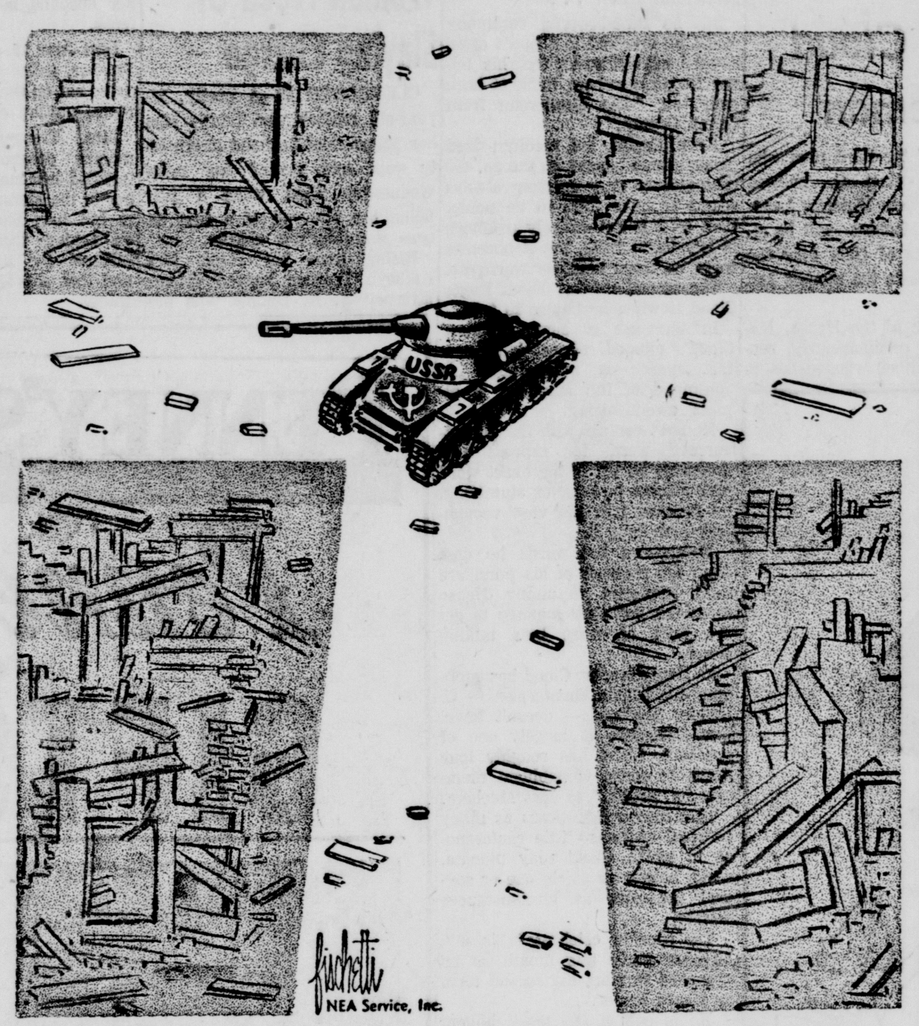

At last reports, the materialistic Christmas was going like a pier fire in Tokyo and other Japanese cities. The clever little fellows were even having office parties and chasing guppies in the stenographer pool around filing cabinets, same like rising son in old man's business office so far across sea, if you will pardon the expression so soon after anniversary of monster baroom at Pearl Harbor.

Which just goes to show...

The materialistic Christmas ties up loose ends and has become indispensable.

Those lovely people also are going to give me a lot of other things I'd have to buy sooner or later and vice versa. Except for the wrapping paper and the decorations, the materialistic Christmas does not cost a penny extra.

Writing Theological Music

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

Dean James A. Pike, of the Cathedral of St. John the Divine, recently wrote on the theology of Tin Pan Alley and he objects to much of it because the writers of the songs and lyrics want hit tunes which satisfy the tastes of their customers.

Sokolsky

However, it strikes me that it is better to sing wrong theology than not to sing at all.

Tin Pan Alley has at least this much humility, it has never called its output poetry but refers to it as lyrics, although I remember when they called it, words. "Words and music," that was the phrase and at least it was half accurate.

-:-

THE LEARNED dean's main objection is that these song writers seem to be contracting with God for something special which has always been low-churchtheology and probably that is where the song writers get it.

For instance, the song "Somebody Up There Likes Me," is no worse, theologically, than "Brighten the Corner Where You Are," which Billy Sunday and Homer Roadheaver made famous.

Neither song could quite win a scholarship at Juilliard or at Tanglewood, to say nothing of a Pulitzer prize whose winners are rearly recalled.

Quite correctly, Dean Pike rejects the deals which are offered God by young people, as, for instanc, "Give us this day and Thy commandments shall be done."

There is no piety in that. It is a deal. It is what the politicians call a contract. You do for me and I shall do for you. Who is to deny that a deal is characteristic of our age?

-:-

DUTY IS A WORD that seems to be forgotten and respect has given way before the ubiquitous democracy, which is a cover-all word meaning anything that anyone wants it to mean.

Dean Pike perhaps does not quite grasp the significance of television which enters the home for good and evil. As I write these words, I wander into the kitchen to steal a pear, out of turn and diet; our cook is at the television watching "Hamlet."

I stayed a moment to see that it is a good performance and could not help thinking that it is better to see "Hamlet" on television than not to know that it had ever been written. And that might be applied to these songs which bring God —even theologically untidily— to those who have not known God. God at all.

If the lure is success on earth or pie in the sky, it must be noted that many preachers are no wiser than the song writers, for they too promise more than they can deliver and their churches are usually fuller than those who rigidly adhere to scholarly theology which the people never understand anyhow.

-:-

THERE ARE CURIOUS contradictions in this world, such as the man who objects to the employment of the symbolism of the Ten Commandments in a schoolroom because he believes in the separation of church and state.

Does he believe in the separation of school children from the Ten Commandments and if he does, what is his objection to juvenile delinquents?

I cannot guarantee that knowledge of the Ten Commandments safeguards a child from error but surely ignorance of them does not help the child to live within the restraints of a moral life. Therefore this separation-of-church-and-state-advocate has not thought out his problem. He only knows that he does not want the children to be told that the moral law was revealed to Moses on Mount Sinai.

DOES HE MIND if the moral law was revealed to someone else? Perhaps to Confucius or Karl Marx? And where does one stop? If Isaiah is forbidden, is Spinoza permitted? If Job is unconstitutional, is Zoroaster constitutional?

I wonder if Dean Pike would regard it as evil per se if the Psalms were sung to a rock-n-roll beat and yet, I have heard my own father sing sacred prayers to tunes adapted from Italian operas which sometimes are as hurdy-gurdyish as the current things which a singer like Perry Como puts across without even opening his mouth.

Why object to the way folks sing of God or pray to God? Each will do it in his own way and for many who never heard the Lord's Prayer, the popular song about it is a revelation and an inspiration.

Season For Deaths

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — With the office party season coming to its annual climax today and Friday many businessmen are joining law enforcement groups in the drive to hold down traffic deaths in the coming long weekend.

There are around 72 million Americans who drive cars. The majority of them will be on the streets and highways at some time during the period between Friday evening and Tuesday midnight. The Christmas holidays usually see the year's peak of traffic fatalities.

The trend last year and this has been to put a brake on the office Christmas parties which have often had traffic accidents as aftermaths.

Segments of the liquor industry are appealing for temperance before driving and have a tie-in with the coffee industry to urge that drivers make a cup of coffee their 'one for the road."

The auto industry this year as last stresses the safety features built into the new models.

The National Safety Council Chicago estimates that the four day holiday may see 660 traffic deaths in spite of all the warnings. The three day Christmas holiday last year set a record of 609 deaths.

The fraternal Order of Police in Philadelphia notes that auto fatalities so far this year are eight per cent ahead of last year. It fears this Christmas season will also set a new record.

The Institute for Safer Living, a division of the American Mutual Liability Insurance Co. of Boston, predicts that the toll between midnight Dec. 22 and midnight Dec. 31 may exceed 1,300. For the whole month of December more than 4,200 may meet death on the highways.

The National Licensed Beverage Assn., with a membership of 50,000 tavern owners and operators, and the National Retail Liquor Package Stores Assn., with 30,000 retail liquor stores as members, and Seagrams Distillers Co. are placing ads this year in 84 newspapers with an estimated 20 million readers, urging that coffee be the for-the-road drink.

Packets of instant coffee are being distributed to the distilling company's retail accounts so that bars can offer a free cup to departing patrons.

In some areas coffee companies are cooperating with local police to offer free cups to drivers showing signs of fatigue.

While drinking gets much of the blame for the traffic toll, there are other factors.

The Institute for Safer Living points out that this is the time of year when visibility is at its worst —the darkest days, often the worst weather. There is more fatigue, mental and physical from shopping as well as partying.

The Fraternal Order of Police urges avoidance of driving when over tired, as much as after drinking. It also suggests keeping a car window open, turning on the radio, or talking with other passengers as ways to help stay awake. The order says its 40,000 police officer members around the nation will do their best to help drivers hold down the carnage.

The Puzzled Santas

The two department-store Santas were taking their coffee break. They seemed to be in quite an argument. You'll never guess the question disturbing them. One, named Wilbur, had asked the other, "Is there a Santa Claus?"

"If there ain't what are we doing in these costumes?" was the reply from Steve, the other Santa.

"That's just it. It bothers me. If we don't believe in Santa ain't we fraudulent operators?" asked Wilbur.

"Look, I got worries enough on this job without getting technical and worrying about my sincerity. To me this is just a character costume. I could be Henry the Eighth, Falstaff or Captain Fletcher," insisted Steve.

"Ain't you got no sense of shame? We're supposed to be symbols, lifting up the hearts of young and old and inspiring charity and good will everywhere," argued Wilbur.

"The boys who turn out our costumes have never been told, I guess," said Steve.

-:-

"I'M SERIOUS," insisted Wilbur, "a department-store Santa should have convictions. Answer me and quit stalling: Is there a Santa Claus?"

"If there is he must be too far away to notice these whiskers and sue me for libel," said Steve. "I'm in a yes-and-no mood but maybe fifty thousand bear manufacturers can't be wrong. Stop worrying. If I get any definite information I'll let you know."

"Maybe I should see a psychiatrist," admitted Wilbur, sadly.

"He could slap you on a couch, set you back $25 and blame your whiskers and red costume on the fact you didn't get the right vitamins as an infant and were forced to go to work before you were twenty-one," said Steve. "Imagine a guy fifty years old wondering is there a Santa! I thought you found out different away back in public school."

"I did. I laughed off Santa at the age of twelve or so. For forty years I wasn't bothered. It's only since I got broke, out of work and forced to take this job that I sort of recaptured my early belief. I have moments when I think I can snap my fingers and bring reindeer."

"What did it?" asked Steve.

-:-

"THE EXPRESSION of a kid as he climbs on my lap in the toy department and stares at me in complete confidence. I looked into one moppet's eyes an hour back and saw something that made me wonder if he didn't have the greater wisdom," was the reply.

"You're getting corny in your old age," said Steve, "and now you've got me all softened up. Okay, there IS a Santa Claus."

'Fine! Let's admit we are the two corniest department-store Kris Kringles in the business. We'll both feel happier and we'll be less apt to disillusion the small fry," chuckled Wilbur.

They went back on the job, looking extra convincing. In fact they even took pains to adjust their whiskers properly.

President Shows Indian U. S. Not Following Rigid Foreign Policy

Ike-Nehru Talks Seen Big Success From American Point Of View

WASHINGTON (AP)—U.S. officials said today the talks between Indian Prime Minister Nehru and President Eisenhower have been a big success from the American point of view.

Nehru himself appeared pleased with the results.

The formal talks between the two men ended Wednesday. Wednesday night Nehru gave a state dinner at the Indian Embassy for the President and Mrs. Eisenhower.

Most U.S. officials credited Eisenhower with apparent success in convincing Nehru that the United States is not following a rigid foreign policy but is prepared to make adjustments as developments demand.

Nehru made this point Wednesday when he told a news conference U. S. policy is "flexible" and not as rigid as he had thought.

Asked specifically whether he regarded such flexibility as applying to the policy of nonrecognition of Red China and blocking Red Chinese membership in the United Nations, Nehru replied that he could not give a "yes" or "No" answer.

There appears to be no doubt that in their private talks Eisenhower and Nehru debated the Red China issue thoroughly and that Nehru repeated that Red China is a reality. He told newsmen the Nationalist Chinese government of Chiang Kai-shek should not be considered to be more than the government of Formosa. Formal U. S. policy holds that the Chiang government is the legal government for all China.

Nehru's basic position of neutrality or "nonaignment," as he calls it, remains unchanged. Diplomatic authorities said there had been no effort by either him or Eisenhower to persuade the other to take a fundamentally different line.

One evidence of a better understanding by Nehru of U.S. policy was found in what he said about disarmament. He declared that the "first necessity" is to create confidence, obviously meaning mutual confidence between the United States and Russia.

That makes it essential, he declared, to have agreement on arrangements for an inspection system. This is very close to the Eisenhower view as previously expressed publicly.

At another point, the Indian Prime Minister said he did not think it proper to call Soviet control of Eastern European countries "colonialism." He apparently reserves that term to mean European domination of Asian or African areas. Having thus disagreed with an American concept of Soviet communism, Nehru went on to say he thought it clear that Russia has exercised a "dominating influence" over the satellites, as shown in the Hungarian revolt.

Nehru's other expressed views about Russia appear to be generally to accord with those held by American officials. He said in effect that the Russian people would not again permit themselves to be subjected to a total dictatorship of the Stalinist variety.

Negroes Say Police Brutally Beat Them

CLEVELAND (AP)—A white Army Sergeant and the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People were lined up today with two Negroes who claim two off-duty policemen brutally beat them because they were drinking with the white.

Army Sgt. John Coleman told an investigating officer the two patrolmen tried to start a fight because he and the Negroes were drinking together in a cafe. He said he left the cafe after one patrolman hit him.

The NAACP challenged the patrolmen, Peter J. Hotz and Edward Shaniuk, to take lie detector tests about their statements that the Negroes attacked them.

The Negroes, Rober Barbee, 30, and Army Sgt. Herman Humphries, 26, said the patrolmen took them to the police station and beat them to the floor while other police looked on. They were charged with assault and battery and intoxication.

Hotz and Shaniuk have been charged with neglect of duty and Safety Director John N. McCormich said they would be further charged with conduct unbecoming police officers.

Old-Fashioned Colors Spark the Holiday Home

Making something of the holiday—decor-wise—starts at the front door. The jolly jester (left) dressed in red and green felt greets guests with a musical tune "played" on his mandolin. Indoors, cheerful elf (top center), made of green holly leaves and red cherries, skates by tree made of same materials. Christmas carousel (bottom center) is made of red and white striped candy sticks and a round box trimmed with gift wrap tape and ribbon bows; construction paper reindeer hide a roll of candy to treat a lucky little visitor. In the bright red Swedish candle holder (right), tiny Kris Kringles and red Christmas balls replace tidbits to add a holiday note on a corner table. These are decorations that are budget-wise.

Police said Keith was convicted of first degree murder in Ohio in 1934 and given the death sentence. He won an appeal in 1936, police said, and the sentence was reduced to second degree murder. Police said he was paroled in March 1956 from the Ohio State Penitentiary in Columbus. Police said he was wanted in connection with a fatal shooting during a robbery in Akron last Nov. 21.

Meanwhile, police were holding Nathaniel Bell, Negro chef of a Harlem hotel, in whose room Keith and Morris allegedly plotted a store holdup that never came off. Instead, police said, they decided to hold up a cab driver.

Police at Akron said Keith killed Coburn Van Gunten, 49, an Akron salesman, while trying to steal his car on Nov. 21. Originally from Youngstown, Keith also is wanted for questioning in the slaying of Reynold Amodeo, 30, and Paul Cain, 35, in a grocery store holdup near Canton on Nov. 23.

Winter Wheat Decline Seen

Forecast Predicts 624,953,000 Bushels

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department today forecast next year's drought-plagued winter wheat crop at 624,953,000 bushels based on conditions prevailing Dec. 1.

Such a crop would be 110,042,000 bushels less than this year's production of 734,995,000 bushels and would compare with the 10-year (1945-54) average of 873,690,000.

The accumulation of more than a million bushels surpluses from past big crops assures consumers ample supplies.

Today's forecast was limited to fall-sown winter wheat. No prediction on spring wheat will be given until after the crop is seeded next spring.

But should the spring wheat crop equal this year's 222 million bushels, next year's combined winter and spring crops would total 846,953,000 bushels. This year's combined crop was 997,207,000 bushels and the 10-year average 1,148,289,000.

The department estimated the acreage seed to winter wheat for all purposes totaled 36,778,000 acres compared with 44,503,000 for this year's crop.

Some of the reduction in seedings reflected agreements to take some land out of production under the new soil bank program which offers payments for retirement of land from surplus crops.

The acreage seeded for winter wheat for the 1957 crop, the percentage this represents of seedings for the 1956 crop and the indicated production, respectively, by major-producing states included:

Ohio 1,444,000 acres seeded; 90 per cent of seedings for this year's crop and production 37,544,000 bushels; Indiana 1,211,000; 100 and 38,908,00; Illinois, 1,770,000; 190 and 53,100,00.

CONGRATULATIONS — A smiling President Eisenhower congratulates a very happy Arthur Larson after the latter was sworn in as director of the U. S. Information Agency at a White House ceremony. Great Lakes Shipping Season Ends Friday

DETROIT (AP)—The Great Lakes shipping season will end Friday when the Sault Ste. Marie locks will be closed until next Spring, the Army Corps of Engineers announced Wednesday.

A usual, ice conditions in the upper lakes dictated the closing date.

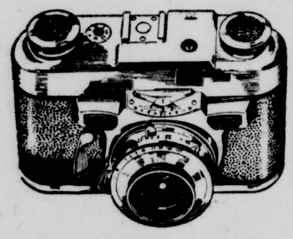

The ore carrier George Sloan of U. S. Steel Corp.'s Pittsburgh Steamship division is expected to be the last vessel to come down through the locks.

Pittsburgh steamship said Wednesday night that its 57 ships hauled 17,323,000 tons of ore during the season, compared with 23,500,000 tons in 1955. Steel and Marine strikes tied up major lake ships for a total of around 70 days this season.

Santa and the SECRET ROOM

by LUCRECE HUDGINS BEALE

Synopsis: Our search for the pot of gold took us from the brownies to the Witch of Witherspoon. She said she got her gold from Gustavius the Giant. While we waited for the giant I suddenly began to turn to stone.

.. CHAPTER FIFTEEN

It was true. I was turning to stone.

I had lost all feeling in one of my hands. The fingers were gray and stiff and when I raised my hand it was heavy like a stone.

The Witch of Witherspoon threw her arms around me. "What is happening to him?"

"The sorcerer sprinkled a magic formula on him," said McGillicuddy. "It was meant to turn him into gold in three days."

"But surely the three days aren't up yet!" I cried.

"Not yet'," said the elf. "We still have time."

But I knew he was only trying to cheer me up and he didn't really have much hope left. I tried to be brave, too, and not notice my hand. The three of us sat there and waited and waited. Finally, thewitc h said in a whisper, "He comes! Listen!"

-:-

I LISTENED and, sure enough, I heard some faraway sound, like a drum beating, boom, boom, boom. Louder and louder it grew until it pounded in my ears and the boxes we sat on rattled and the whole earth seemed to shake.

And suddenly I saw him: Gustavius the Giant plodding over the mountains and across the lakes and heading straight for us. When he was a mile away he waved his hand and I felt the breeze of it ruffling my hair.

"Greetings!" he said to the witch when at last he arrived. His voice was kind and gentle and soft. He dropped a huge sack of gold from his back. "Are these people looking for hearts of gold? I make them you know."

'No," explained the witch. "They are looking for the pot of gold at the end of the rainbow. We hope you get your gold from there and can take them to it."

Then McGillicuddy told Gustavius of all our troubles. The giant said he would do anything to save Santa Claus. He said Santa had never failed at Christmas to fill his stocking, big as it was, and it would be wonderful if now he could do something for Santa

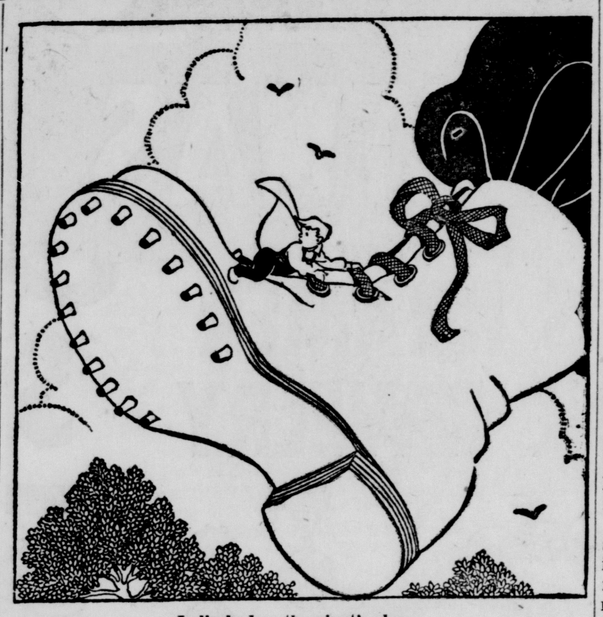

-:-

"I DO INDEED get my gold from the end of the rainbow," he said. "But it is not at the end where lies the pot of gold. My goodness! If I laid a little finger on the rainbow it would fall to pieces! I have to wait at one end and the Goldies bring me the gold from over the rainbow."

"The Goldies? Who are they?"

"They are the fairies who guard the rainbow and the pot of gold at the end. Come along, I will take you to them."

Calhoun McGillicuddy climbed up

I climbed on the giant's shoe

on one of the giant's shoes and I climbed on the other. Then, away we went.

Finally the feet came to a rest and I slid down from the shoes. I looked around and I saw a most beautiful sight. There, before me was a pool of blue and pink and yellow and purple mist. Rising out of the pool was the rainbow itself.

It arched across the sky and, as I looked, I saw a group of golden fairies come dancing down the arc.

"There they are!" said Gustavius. "They're the Goldies!"

"Oh, Gustavius!" they scolded. "You're back so soon! Have you used up all your gold and need more already!"

The giant shook his head sadly. "This time," he said, "I need all your gold."

Seeks Reappraisal Of U. S. Foreign Policy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Sparkman (D-Ala) today called for a "reappraisal" of American foreign policy in the light of developments behind the Iron Curtain and in the Middle East.

Sparkman, a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said he thinks it inevitable that congressional groups will ask "a lot of questions" about the Eisenhower administration's course in the international field.

"It has made mistakes in the past. But I am not so much concerned with what already has happened as with where we are going from here. I think the administration's reliance on the United Nations in the Middle Eastern crisis was all to the good and I'd like to know more about what it intends to do in that field in the future."

All The Homeless Get A Christmas Tree

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The owner of a little delicatessen in a crowded part of downtown Philadelphia bought one of the biggest trees he could find, set it up on a patch of ground alongside the store, and decorated it beautifully.

Then among the ornaments, the lights and silver, he placed a sign: "This tree is for all people who are homeless or who have no Christmas tree of their own."

Where Money Talks

By HAL BOYLE

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Leaves from a sunburned notebook:

Money talks every where in America today. But here the big dollar emits a mighty holler.

You have to be stone deaf not to hear it, or color blind not to see it in this platinum playground of Florida's Gold Coast.

The "expense account rich" who prefer to live quietly in their own home towns (so the neighbors won't get jealous) like to flaunt their wealth in public here.

But in a way it's hard to do. One man's Cadillac is about as long as another man's. A wife can wear only so many minks on her back without smothering.

"The only way the rich can impress each other here," said one longtime student of the foibles of the well-to-do, "is at charitable functions. One big shot gets up and says, 'I'll contribute $5,000.' and another big shot puts him in his place by saying, 'Put me down for ten grand.' "

But the quickest way for a stranger to attract attention here is either to stroll down the street nude—or with a portrait of Salmon P. Chase plastered on his forehead.

Who is Salmon P. Chase? well, look in your wallet, and pull out the first $10,000 bill you come across. The guy portrayed on it is Salmon P. Chase, who was Abe Lincoln's secretary of the treasury.

Some 1,750,000 people visit Miami Beach every year, and millions more wonder what it is really like.

In all India there is but one Taj Mahal. In Miami Beach there is a Taj Mahal (or a reasonable facsimile) in nearly every corner.

Each is a hotel with ocean front rooms renting for $40 a day up during the winter season and suites for $100 a day up. A famous couple during a two-week stay in a flossy penthouse ran up a bill of $6,000—more than a lot of people spend on laundry in an entire year.

In European cities tourists visit cathedrals, museums and palaces. Miami Beach is perhaps the only city in the world which has guided tours of hotel lobbies, each more splendid than the last.

Here a bartender gets about $60 a week in salary and $140 or more in tips. A dishwasher can make up to $90 a week. (Since few tourists come out to the kitchen to tip the dishwasher, he gets to keep any stray raw oyster pearls the guests overlook.)

Miami Beach has 381 hotels, 360 restaurants and night clubs, 19 churches and synagogues, 2,200 apartment buildings, 6,000 private residences, two municipal golf course, 10 parks, a free fishing pier, eight miles of beach and—ah, there, Hollywood!—416 swimming pools.

It has 9 public schools—and 50 private schools!

What doesn't Miami Beach have? It doesn't have a cemetery. (The city fathers decided they didn't need one after a disgruntled tourist exclaimed, "I wouldn't be caught dead here.) It doesn't have a railroad station, a slum, a gambling hall, a place where you can buy a five-cent hot dog, or, so far as I could see, a pawn shop for needy visitors.

Strike Talks Again Futile

12-Hour Session Makes No Progress

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Deadlocked union-management negotiations to end the five-month strike against the Ohio Consolidated Telephone Co. were recessed early today following a marathon 12-hour bargaining session.

A spokesman for the striking Communications Workers of America said the talks which began at 2 p.m. Wednesday and ended shortly after 2 a.m. produced "absolutely no progress." The spokesman said negotiators have scheduled resumption of contract talks for Thursday, Dec. 27, at Columbus.

Both company and union representatives restated their positions on the disputed issues point by point but neither side made concessions, the spokesman said. Disputed issues include renewal of the union shop clause, arbitration and union status of supervisory personnel.

CWA has been on strike against the company since July 15. Ohio Consolidated closed its exchanges in Portsmouth, New Boston and Sciotoville Oct. 15 after rock-throwing and cable cutting incidents.

Emergency telephone service was restored in Portsmouth last Sunday. There have been no reports of any new violence. The manually operated exchanges in New Boston and Sciotoville are still closed.

STOP ISSUING PERMITS

Mrs. Pierce, a native of Waterbury, Conn., was picked up through the alertness of employes of the Traveler's Aid Bureau. Florida police are making arrangements to return her to New York.

553 To Get OSU Degrees Today

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A graduating class of 553 will step to the rostrum to receive their diplomas today at Ohio State University's Autumn quarter commencement in the school's new St. John arena.

Among the graduates are John W. Hudson, Highland Park, Mich., blind since 1939, who will receive a doctor of philosophy degree "summa cum laude;" and Donad I. Johnson, New London, who is to be posthumously, awarded a degree in aeronautical engineering. Johnson died Nov. 10 at the age of 23.

Heading the list of 21 OSU seniors who will be graduated with high scholastic honors are two Air Force officers—both combat veterans.

They are Maj. Robert E. Georgas, Salina, Kan., a veteran of Guam, Iwo Jima and Korea; and Capt. Joseph A. Smith, Jr., Goldsboro, N. C., a B-17 pilot in the European theater of operations during World War II.

Georges, 35, is a general business major, and Smith, 32, majored in accounting.

No Party; Will Aid Hungarians Instead

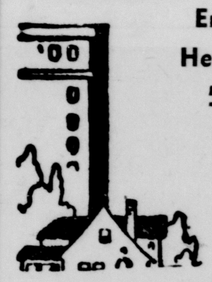

LISBON — County auditor I. J. Vorndran and his employes have decided not to have their annual Christmas dinner party this year, but to send contributions to CARE for aid of Hungarian refugees, instead.

The relief packages will be sent to the Hungarian Refugee Camp, Salzbury, Austria.

An informal get-together was held by the auditor and his employes and guests today at noon in the auditor's office in the Courthouse.

Hilltoppers Hand San Francisco Third Loss In A Row

Dons Facing Rebuilding Job

Cage Power Shifts To Big 7 Conference

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press

Two years ago San Francisco's Dons came quietly out of the West and took college basketball by storm. Now this season's club, doomed from the start, is on the last leg of a dreary trip through the Midwest, facing a rebuilding job for the future.

After adding five victories to the two-year-streak built by the graduated Bill Russell & Co. for an all-time winning record of 60, the Dons now have lost three in a row, the last two in collegiate competition.

Western Kentucky, ranked 20th in this week's Associated Press poll with a 3-1 record, tumbled the second-ranked Dons 61-57 Wednesday night.

On Monday, Illinois had put an official end to the winning record with a 62-33 thumping, although the Dons also had been beaten Saturday at Chicago. That defeat, however, was an unofficial "exhibition" setback by the U.S. Olympic champions — who included Russell and K. C. Jones, also an ex-Don.

The balance of power seems to have shifted on a conference basis as well. The Big 10, with Iowa, Illinois and Indiana; the Southeastern, with Kentucky and Alabama, and the Atlantic Coast, with North Carolina State and North Carolina, have been the powerhouses of recent years. But now only Illinois, Kentucky and North Carolina appear among the apparent rulers.

The Big Seven, meanwhile, looks to be back in business. Kansas with Wilt the Stilt, is No. 1, and the conference also has unbeatens in Nebraska and Iowa State, and has a once-beaten darkhorse in Missouri.

Mizzou made it four in a row Wednesday night with a 59-52 job on Oregon. The Tigers lost their opener to Purdue by two points.

In the tournament picture, Wake Forest repeated as the Carrousel Classic champ by defeating Auburn 58-48 with Florida topping St. Joseph's (Pa) 86-72 for third.

The Quantico Marines bopped Hampden-Sydney 109-68 and Mt. St. Mary's (Md) trimmed Belmont Abbey 103-81 to gain tonight's final in the Quantico tourney.

Russell Signs With Celtics

BOSTON (AP) — All America Bill Russell has signed a one - year contract for a reported $17,000 with the Boston Celtics, but the incomparable Bob Cousy still reigns as the highest-paid player on the National Basketball Assn. club.

Celtics owner Walter Brown declined to disclose the terms of Russell's contract after signing ceremonies Wednesday, but said flatly the former University of San Francisco and Olympic star will not receive as much as Cousy.

"You don't think I'd give anybody as much as I'm giving Cousy, do you?" Brown asked writers. "I'd be crazy to do such a thing after the way Cousy has killed himself around here for seven years playing the style of ball he has."

Cousy is believed to be drawing about $22,000 a year—undoubtedly the highest in the NBA.

Westville Service Edges Deming's

Republicans, Quaker City, Bloomberg's Win Cage Games

In city basketball action last night Konnerth Jewelry was edged by the Republicans 28-21, Quaker City Turkeys beat Lisbon 17-11, Bloomberg's smashed Purity Dairy 64-38 and Thomas Westville Service slipped past Demings' 54-50.

In the Girls League neither Konnerth Jewelry nor the Republicans could score in the first period but from that point on the Republicans took command and led the rest of the game. They led at the half 13-7, and at the three-quarter mark, 20-13.

Janet Reeder scored 16 points to lead the winners and Darlene Smith caged 13 points for the losers.

In the Quaker City Turkeys - Lisbon contest, Quaker City led all the way, with quarter scores of 4-2, 7-6 and 13-8.

High scorer for Quaker City was Casto with seven points, and Boyd led the losers with five points.

In Class B play, Bloomberg's led all the way. The first quarter score was 17-9, and by halftime Bloomberg's led 33-12. At the end of the third stanza, Bloomberg's were far out of reach, 53-22.

Top scorer for Bloomberg's was Harrigan with 14 points. McLaughlin scored 14 points for the losers.

In the final fray of the evening, Westville Service led all the way with period scores of 9-8, 25-20 and 40-31.

Tom Hahlen was high scorer with 22 points for the winners, and Raffle and Solomen had 15 apiece for the losers.

McDowell Resigns As Coach At Kent

KENT, Ohio (AP)—Dave McDowell quit as basketball coach of Kent State University after his Golden Flashes lost to the Michigan Wolverines Wednesday night 100-60, a KSU spokesman said.

The 35-year-old McDowell's plan to quit was confirmed a few hours before the game last night by KSU athletic director Trevor Rees.

"Dave said he will be finished after (the) game at Michigan," Rees said. "His reasons for leaving are personal and any announcement in that regard should come from him."

For the rest of the season, the Kent team will be handled by Carl Chestnutt, assistant basketball coach; and Dick Kotis, freshman cage coach, Rees said.

Kent's loss to Michigan was it sixth in seven starts, its only victory being over Earlham.

Browns Sign Six For 1957 Season

CLEVELAND (AP) — Six players have been signed for 1957 by the Cleveland Browns whose 1956 season was the worst in the history of the team. Those signed, all notable for their youth, are back Preston Carpenter, tackle Don Goss, guard Jim Ray Smith and center Art Hunter, all on the squad this season; and tackle Fred Robinson, who spent the season in Canada; and Bill Quinlan, a 1956 draftee still in the Armed Forces.

Joe Monohan, a former Dodger bat boy, coaches football at Brooklyn's Erasmus Hall High School.

Player Tells Of Jackpot To Get Star Out Of Game

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Does professional football condone roughness against key players and is there a monetary reward for knocking them out of the game?

A former Los Angeles Ram star, who declines use of his name, says that from 1951 through 1953, every quarterback in the National Football League was a target "and the guy who got the quarterback out of the game got a jackpot that we all donated to."

"But that doesn't mean we wanted the quarterback out of there illegally," the player told Times football writer Jack Geyer. "It was just real good hard tackling to put him on his back. The coaches were aware of it."

Jumbo Joe Stydahar was coaching the Rams in 1951 but was succeeded by Hampton Pool. Pool was unavailable for comment.

The player pools, the former Ram said, usually ran about $40, "with each player putting in a buck or so."

"I don't recal of any player being knocked out of a game, but there were many instances of a lineman getting a small bonus every time he put the quarterback on his back."

Several players who were with the Rams in the early '50s denied the existence of such pools.

"In my eight years with the Rams there never has been any effort to hurt someone illegally," said star end Elroy (Crazylegs) Hirsch. "I can say in all honesty that if a team has a key player such as Bobby Layne of Detroit, another club will put on an added effort to stop him."

Hirsch said he knew of no money rewards. Nearly all his service with the Rams has been with the offensive unit, however.

In Los Angeles, Tex Schramm, general manager of the Rams, said he had not heard of a player pool for taking care of opposing quarterbacks "and if we had, we wouldn't condone it."

Rosewall's Pro Status Causes Tennis Furore

ADELAIDE (AP) —Ken Rosewall's flirtation with a professional career has created a mild furore six days before the Davis Cup challenge round, but Australian tennis officials are playing like the three monkes on the mantlepiece — they see, hear and speak nothing.

A Melbourne newspaper, The Sun, reported today that Rosewall already had come to terms with professional promoter Jack Kramer and there were suggestions that he may be ruled off the Davis Cup team before he got a chance to swing his gifted racket at the Americans.

This talk was quickly scotched in all quarters, including both the Australian and American camps.

Kramer reiterated from Melbourne today that he expected Rosewall to join this troupe around January 1 and begin the new professional season outdoors in Australia on January 26. He said Rosewall definitely has not signed.

UPSET AT ILLINOIS. — Upended in San Francisco-Illinois basketball game is Mike Preasseau of the Dons at Champaign, Ill. He took a header into seats. Illinois won, 63-33, ending Dons string of 60 victories.

The 1956 football tie between North Carolina and Wake Forest was the second between the schools in 53 games. North Carolina holds a 35-16 edge in games.

Sisler Gets Job To Teach Hitting

PITTSBURGH (AP)—George Sisler, 63-year-old member of Baseball's Hall of Fame whose hitting feats have become a legend in his lifetime, has taken a fulltime job of trying to improve the hitting of the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Genera Manager Joe L. Brown Wednesday appointed Sisler to the rather unique post of "special adviser" to Field Manager Bobby Bragan.

Sisler, who has been chief of Pirate scouts since 1950, will travel with the club and attend every home game. He'll sit in the stands and try to pick out the individual flaws of the players.

"It's the first full-time job of its type I know about in major league baseball," said Sisler. "It will involve principally the instruction of our hitters but anything else that I can pick up for the benefit of the Pirates will be passed along to Manager Bobby Bragan, of course."

Although Sisler's assignment may be the first full-time job of its type, Rogers Hornsby and Johnny Mize had somewhat similar assignments—and without too much success. Hornsby gave advice to Cleveland Indian hitters while Mize did the same thing with the New York Giants.

The New York Giants attracted the fewest home fans in the National League in 1956. A total of 629,179 paid to see games in the Polo Grounds, a drop of almost 200,000 from the 1955 attendance.

Alleged Boxing Fix Being Investigated

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Welterweight fighters Dick Goldstein and Art Aragon, whom Goldstein charged tried to bribe him to take a "dive," took lie detector tests Wednesday night.

Results were not expected to be known for a week.

The state boxing commission started an investigation.

Goldstein testified at a commission hearing Aragon, third-ranked welter, tried to bribe him to throw a fight Tuesday night.

Goldstein said he was threatened with death if he didn't take a "dive" in the third round.

Aragon denied any deal with Goldstein.

Both appeared eager to take the lie detector test.

The fight never came off. Aragon called in Dr. C. D. Henry, state boxing commission doctor. The physician said Aragon had a reddened throat and a slight fever.

Goldstein testified Aragon approached him Dec. 7 and promised him a fight in San Antonio if he would agree to "take a dive." Goldstein said he agreed, but denied intending to go through with what he called "the fix."

Aragon testified the only thing resembling Goldstein's testimony was that Goldstein had admitted he was afraid and Aragon had told him, "if you get knocked down and hurt, just stay down. Don't play the hero."

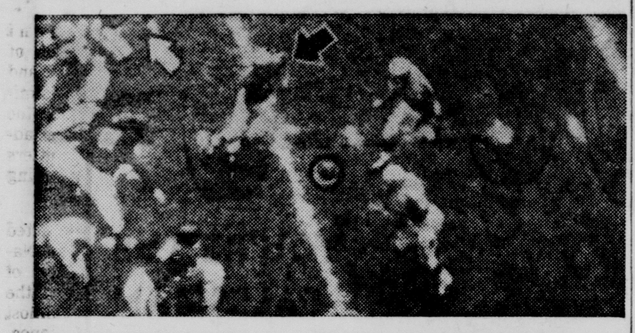

Aragon accused Goldstein of bringing the charges for publicity.

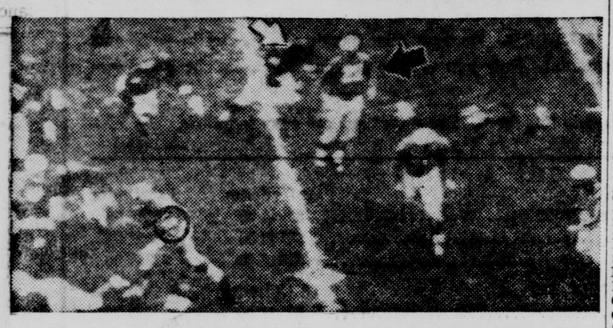

Boxing promoter Bob Cruz testified "this whole thing is boxing politics."

He accused George Parnassus, Los Angeles boxing promoter, of what he called "trying to step in and take over San Antonio."

Other principals in the scheduled fight the grand jury wants to talk to are promoter Jimmy Parks, who arranged the match; Benny Conyers, Goldstein's local trainer; C. P. Woods, Goldstein's trainer and former trainer for Aragon; and L. L. Baldesareli, Aragon's trainer.

Goldstein said he was contacted Tuesday and offered $50 to throw the fight. He said several contacts and threats were made Tuesday afternoon.

CONTROVERSIAL PLAY — The above sequence shows the controversial play early in the second quarter of the Detroit Lions-Chicago Bears game at Chicago on Sunday, Dec. 16. Webb Stops Pat McAteer

British Champ Out In Second Round

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN

CHICAGO (AP) — For a fellow who had 44 fights, winning all but 2, Pat McAteer had plenty of unguarded moments Wednesday night in the Chicago Stadium ring.

The 24-year-old British Empire middleweight champion could hit with his left, but on defense it dangled helplessly and Spider Webb closed in to knock him down with rights four times.

Webb, also 24, finally ended the nationally televised bout by scoring a technical knockout in 2:32 of the second round of a scheduled 10.

Webb, a 1952 U. S. Olympic boxing team member, now has won 18 fights in a row.

Joey Giardello may be next for Spider in his goal for a title scrap.

Spider, scoring his 12th knockout, floored McAteer twice for the eight count in the first round, and twice again in the second. The native of Birkenhead, England, finally was so groggy that referee Bill Doty stopped it before Webb could really damage the features of the rather handsome invader.

"Campbell has been down before and I think it was stopped too soon," said McAteer's manager, Johnny Campbell.

He was the only one who thought so.

Webb outweighed his outclassed foe 158½ pounds to 157½. Only 1,086 ringside customers showed up, making a net gate of $771.

Baseball Shorts

NEW YORK (AP)—Baseball Shorts of All Sorts:

Milwaukee Manager Fred Haney looks for his Braves to make another strong run for the National League pennant in 1957. "We're in a better spot than anybody even without any deals or strength from the minors," he says . . . The Brooklyn Dodgers are high on John Roseboro, a young catcher who currently is leading the Venezuelan league in batting with a .370 average. He hit 25 homers for Montreal last season . . . Sam Jones echoes the sentiments of all St. Louis pitchers when asked to comment on his transfer from the Chicago Cubs to the Cards. "At least I won't have to face Stan Musial," he grins.

Johnny Mize, who took turns at coaching and broadcasting following his release by the Yankees, is now a prosperous orange grower near DeLand, Fla. . . Guess that Birdie Tebbetts did a good job managing Cincinnati last season after all. Now it's the Boston Chapter of the Baseball Writers' Assn. of America which has named him "Manager of the Year". . . The St. Louis Cards have moved to the front in the contract signing league. Sixteen players already have come to terms.

"The Jim Piersall Story," the movie based on the life of the Boston Red Sox' outfielder, is expected to be released shortly. They still fear Boston's Ted Williams more than any other player in the American League. The Thumper received the most intentional bases on balls in the circuit in '56. He had 11 while the Yanks' Mickey Mantle only had six.

Says Ike Will Name Bender To Key Post

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Patterson (R-Conn) predicted today that Sen. Bender (R-Ohio), defeated for re-election, "will be appointed to an important post in the Eisenhower administration."

Writing in his weekly "news letter," Patterson said:

"He (Bender) is currently being considered for appointment to the Subversive Activities Control Board — also being considered for appointment to the postmaster generalship."

Bender said, in response to an inquiry, that he had no idea where such "rumors originate."

"I think someone sits at a ouija board to guess what I am going to do," he added.

Bender went on to say that his plans are "not indefinite." And he said postmaster general Arthur Summerfield "is doing a fine job, and I hope he stays on the job a long time."

Dribbles Ball From Wooster To Massillon

WOOSTER, Ohio (AP) — Wooster College doesn't appear to have a title-winning basketball team this season, but it certainly has a durable dribbler.

Proof of this came Tuesday after sophomore Bruce Keene of McKeesport, Pa., jokingly avered that he could dribble a basketball nonstop from the city limits of Keene dribbled into Massillon.

His teammates took him up on that and raised a kitty of $46 as a prize.

Four hours and 57 minutes later, eene dribbled into Massillon.

Eighteen witnesses, making sure the prize was properly earned, rode along in automobiles.

Keene's trip almost wore out a new basketball and averaged 104 dribbles for each of the 22 miles.

The team has lost its first five games.

SOVIET TROUBLE SPOTS — Newsmap details the gradual decomposition of the Soviet satellite empire which began shortly after the death of dictator Joseph Stalin. As the Hungarian revolt entered its seventh week, new reports of unrest came from the Baltic States of Esthonia, Latvia and Lithuania, and from Albania.

Cypriots, Turks Reject British Offer To Allow Limited Self-Rule

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — Leaders of Cyprus' Greek majority and Turkish minority both have firmly rejected Britain's offer of a new constitution to give the rebellious east Mediterranean island limited self-rule.

The offer has, however, opened the way for a resumption of talks between Britain and Archbishop Makarios, exiled leader of the island's Greek Cypriots.

Cyprus' Greek-origin residents about four fifths of the 500,000 population, insist that Makarios is the only person with whom Britain can negotiate.

Britain deported the high Greek Orthodox churchman to the Seychelle Islands in the Indian Ocean last March, charging him with directing the campaign of violence waged since 1954 the EOKA underground. Makarios was the leader of the Greek-Cypriot drive for independence of Cyprus and eventual union with Greece.

Two British representatives were to meet with the archbishop today to explain Britain's new proposal for a constitution.

Colonial Secretary Alan Lennox-Boyd, announcing the offer in the House of Commons in London, emphasized that the talks with Makarios were to be "consultations" and not "negotiations." There was speculation that the new British proposals and the talks with Makarios might be opened a way for his release. British leaders have said he can win his freedom by denouncing the use of force as a political instrument.

The British proposals met the sharpest rejection from Greek Cypriot leaders and from the Greek government because they did not set a date for granting self-determination for Cyprus. It is considered certain that such a plebiscite would find the Greek majority moving quickly to make the island a political part of Greece.

The proposed constitution would leave a British governor in full control of defense, foreign policy and internal security in Cyprus. The governor also could rule by decree during emergencies.

The plan would assure the Greek majority 24 of the 30 elected seats in a new Legislature. The governor would appoint 6 other members.

Police Attempt To Question Eccentric Blamed For Murder Of Three Persons

ANGOLA, Ind. (AP) — Police made another attempt today to question a 40-year-old eccentric blamed for sudden shootings at nearby Ray with a rifle and a revolver that left three persons dead and two wounded.

Two of the victims were not found until about 18 hours after they were shot. Police checking reports of neighborhood grudges found the bodies of Fred Peterson, 53, and his son, Ronald, 24, in their home Wednesday afternoon. They were killed with .45 caliber revolver bullets.

A 48-year-old farmhand, Mervin Forrester, had been found dead in the doorway of his home after the shooting spree Tuesday night. He had rifle bullets in the head and chest.

Merlin McNaughton, who never had caused serious trouble before, was held without charge. State police said he had been crazed by an obsession that "everybody in Ray was out to get him."

McNaughton was described as an intelligent man who quoted scripture.

He sat in his cell mumbling and would give no explanation of the shooting, Sheriff Harry Dirrim said. He called McNaughton a "mental case," although he never had received treatment.

The sheriff said there had been "unfriendly feeling" in the neighborhood.

Also wounded in the Tuesday night shooting were Preston Bradley, 38-year-old foundryman, and his wife, Nancy, 38. Bradley was in good condition in Cameron Hospital here, and Mrs. Bradley was listed in "fairly good condition" after surgery in Fort Wayne.

The Bradley's 4-year-old daughter, Cathy, taken from their bed and found with McNaughton when he surrendered in his own home, was unharmed.

The Petersons apparently had been killed just after Forrester was shot, and before the Bradleys were wounded and their daughter abducted.

When he surrendered, McNaughton was wearing pillows strapped to his chest and back. Neighbors said he had worn them more than two years, afraid he would be shot and saying they would "keep the bullets from hurting."

Forrester lived across the street from McNaughton in a house owned by McNaughton. The Petersons lived next door to McNaughton, and the Bradleys lived in the same block.

Neighbors said McNaughton had never worked but lived on the income from his property, inherited from his father.

Post Office Attacks Icy Walks, Streets

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Post Office, which has been worrying over how to keep dogs from biting mailmen, shifted attention today to the hazards letter carriers face on icy sidewalks.

Maurice H. Stans, acting Postmaster General, said a large percentage of accidents suffered by postmen occurs on icy walks, steps or stairways, and he added in a statement:

"Ice or snow-covered walks and steps . . . should be cleaned as promptly as possible or, if that is not feasible in time for the mailman's visit, abrasive materials—such as sand and ashes — should be spread over slippery walkways and steps to help prevent slips and falls."

Truck Carrying Vaccines Stolen

NEW YORK (AP) — Police maintained an all-state alarm today for a stolen tractor-trailer loaded with damaged vaccines and antitoxins.

The truck and contents disappeared Wednesday from a Manhattan loading platform.

The drugs were part of a shipment from Lederle Laboratories, Pearl River, N.Y., to its Chicago branch office. The truck carrying them caught fire and 730 cartons out of 2,709 were damaged.

The Chicago office was returning the damaged cartons to Pearl River, where they were to be destroyed. The drugs included diphtheria antitoxins, tetanus toxoid, and vaccines for mumps and typhoid.

Ohio Attorney Excused From Contempt Fine

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—An attorney who said he arrived at a Zanesville court late because of car trouble, was excused from paying a $100 contempt of court fine in one of some 30 decisions handed down by the Ohio Supreme Court Wednesday.

The lawyer, Robert Dow Hamilton, of Columbus, was fined by Common Pleas Court Judge Clarence J. Crossland, Zanesville, for being 40 minutes late at the start of a workmen's compensation case in which Hamilton was council.

The Supreme Court reversed the fine, commenting that the "trial court was not free from judicial error."

The high court also refused to review a Franklin County Apellate Court decision holding race track employes eligible for unemployment benefits for loss of work only during the April 1—Oct. 31 racing season in Ohio.

Racing interests, seeking regular instead of seasonal benefits for track employes, had appealed the decision.

In other decisions the Court:

Concurred in Trumbull County Court decisions awarding Robert Benson full claims against Aetna Freight Lines, Inc. A load of steel pipe slipped and caused $750 damages to a truck the company leased from him, Benson claimed.

Allowed a motion for a new new trial, but let stand a decision awarding Juanita F. Chiesa $18,300 for injuries suffered in a fall down stairs at a South Market Street apartment house in Canton in 1951.

Rejected an appeal by John W. Fredericks (Salem) judgment of $1,984 to Mrs. Kathryn Day for funds advanced to buy furniture that later was awarded to Mrs. Elizabeth Gay Fredericks when she obtained a divorce.

Concurred in Trumbull County decisions allowing workmen's compensation to William E. Eakin after Sept. 3, 1952, for a back injury. Eakin is an employe of the Ideal Foundry Division of Republic Steel Corp.

Took under study an Appellate Court reversal of alimony and other payments ordered made to Mrs. Helen C. Ziegler, who obtained a divorce from Charles C. Ziegler of Portsmouth. The Appellate Court had sent back to trial court an order granting Mrs. Ziegler custody of their child and $16 monthly support.

Agreed to review a case in which the state of Robert W. Gill filed a claim against the Willis E. Wyckoff estate. Wyckoff, Gill and a third man were killed in an auto accident two years ago on U. S. 40 near Hebron. The Appellate Court had dismissed the case.

Columbiana Council Approves Service Station Erection

Renews Reciprocal Aid With Fire Departments

COLUMBIANA — Village Council accepted on first reading Tuesday evening a resolution authorizing the mayor and clerk to sign for the village as an owner of adjoining property, its consent to the establishment by the Sun Oil Co. of a service station inside the corporation on the Route 14 bypass between Routes 46 and 164.

The resolution may be accepted for final passage under suspension of the rules at an adjourned meeting at 7:30 p.m. next Thursday, Dec. 7, to close up the busines of the year.

R. H. Farnsworth of the company's district office in Youngstown and its engineer, Jack Kerr, submitted plans which have the approval of the State Highway Department.

They were given assurance that the village authorities want the station established, but that it will want an easement to protect itself in the solution of a drainage problem there and that it will want the sanction of the board of affairs because of the sewerage system installation on village land adjoining the oil company's site.

Action on a proposal by C. F. Heck of Youngstown Home Insulation Co. to insulate with rock wool the city building between the ceiling and the roof for $619.08 was deferred until the adjourned meeting.

Heck said the job would include installation of three ventilators according to Johns-Manville specifications, and that there would be a saving of $80 a year in fuel costs, which would pay for the work in less than eight years.

ORDINANCES submitted by Solicitor Jack Kuhlman renewing reciprocal aid agreements with the fire departments of Beaver Township, Washingtonville, Leetonia, Lisbon, East Palestine and New Waterford were passed under suspension of the rules.

An agreement with the village of Rogers similar to the one between Columbiana and Fairfield township will be up for renewal if the village of Rogers desires it, and the terms will be about the same as those recently agreed upon between the village and the township.

Fire Chief Donald suggested the advantage of an agreement with Negley, which has a 1,300-gallon tank truck that would be of advantage at rural fires.

Mrs. Maragaret Hetric, 47 W. Salem St., who answers fire and police calls when there is no one in the office at police headquarters in city hall, was re-hired at $110 a month, a raise of $25 a month. She will also have a week vacation with pay every year and periods of relief from duty at times during the day by arrangement with Chief of Police William McGuckin.

A regulation that incinerators be covered with a three-fourths-inch wire mesh was reported nat to have been complied with by some of the business places along Main St., and Fire Chief Donald Hisey and the police were instructed to enforce the ordinance if warnings are unheeded.

Chief McGuckin reported that he has prepared a tentative schedule providing a 45-hour week for each member of the force during 1957. He also reported that he had obtained a riot gun and a gas gun for the cruiser as authorized.

Columbiana Auxiliary of Salem Hospitals had its Christmas dinner in the Methodist Church at noon Monday with 21 members present and two guests, the Rev. and Mrs. W. S. Longsworth.

Officers installed for 1957 by Mrs. M. H. Pursifull are: Mrs. Frank Griffin, president; Mrs. Paul Cline, vice president; Mrs. Harry Miller, secretary; Mrs. Thomas Dodds, treasurer. The next meeting for sewing will be at the same place, Monday, Jan. 21.

COLUMBIANA BUSINESS AND Professional Women's Club, at its December meeting in Grace Evangelical and Reformed Church, Tuesday evening, voted to buy a TB bond. Entertainment consisted of a white elephant auction. Helen Eckert, president, and Vera Fraysier will represent the club at a state directors' meeting in the Neil House, Columbus, Saturday, Jan. 26.

Mrs. Mary Hinerman, president, presided at a meeting of the Kindergarten Mothers' Club in Dixon School, Tuesday evening, when favors were made for the kindergarten Christmas parties to have been held during school hours at Dixon School yesterday. The parties were planned by Mrs. Ann Jones. Lunch was served.

The park board reorganized Tuesday evening for 1957 by re-electing the present officers, K. T. Gormley, president; Ernest Werner, vice president, and Wilder Foertch, secretary.

Firestone American Legion Post will have its annual Christmas party for children of all members of the post at 7 p.m. Friday. Santa Claus is scheduled to arrive at 7:15 with gifts and candy for the children. The post has cancelled its regular meeting falling on Christmas Eve.

Distinguished Robin Makes Last Migration

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—The country's most distinguished robin, George, has made his last migration. He has settled, permanently, in Pasadena.

When George migrated he didn't do it the hard way. He went by Buick, with his caretakers, Mr. and Mrs. Jack W. Thomas at the wheel, and his bodyguard, Duke, a shepherd dog, standing watch.

George has been in the public print often. Originally, he was an Ohio robin. In 1952, when he was a fledgling, he fell out of his nest, and Mrs. Thomas rescued him when he was about to die. She gave him whisky and water from an eye dropper.

George snapped his beak and decided then and there that flying was for the birds, but he was going to stay close to the supply of bourbon. He traveled everywhere with the Thomases, spending the winters in the south. He went to Washington for the fishing season, and into Canada and Alaska.

On a Canadian trip he manfully swallowed some bonded Canadian whisky and chirped for more, averting a possible international situation with the overworked pun that "you can't fly on one wing."

A year ago the Thomases adopted another robin, Washington, who was found with a broken beak. Mrs. Thomas says it was touching to see George feed Washington his own food and whisky. Disaster struck last week. Washington was hopping about the yard in search of a snack when a stray cat charged out of the bushes. Washington streaked for the window but it was closed and he fell to the ground with a broken neck.

Thomas, a retired magician, says George has taken to solitary drinking and is very depressed. Thomas says they may try AA (alcoholic abstinence, in this case.) Because George likes the stuff too well, and Thomas figures he just can't have a stewed robin around the house.

HIS HERO — Eight-year-old Ulric Willers takes a gander at a new statue of Sweden's most famous goose, carved in honor of the goose in the story of "Nils Holgersson's Wonderful Journey," written 50 years ago by Nobel Prize winner Selma Lagerlof. The giant goose, by sculptor Edvin Ohrsrom, was part of a Nils Holgersson exhibit in Stockholm.

Seeks Aid For Israel From American Jews

CINCINNATI (AP) — Mrs. Golda Meir, foreign minister of Israel, said Tuesday night that her country, with the help of American Jews, can become a "model" for the entire Middle East.

She told a Bonds-for-Israel dinner that the Israelis have been terrorized by the Arab states since the day the nation was established in 1948.

"With your help, the country we have sought to find for centuries will develop and its people will live without fear," she said.

The 58-year-old widow said that Israel "watched (President) Nasser build up Egyptian air and sea power and point for the day when he could destroy us."

Referring to the recent invasion of Egypt by Israeli forces, and later by Anglo-French troops, she asked, "would any country in the United Nations have waited for Nasser to name that day if he were going to attack it?"

"The people of Israel will die, if necessary, to preserve the spot in the orld where we have mended the broken bodies and spirits of countless Jews," Mrs. Meir said.

O'Neill is a Republican and presently Ohio's attorney general.

1,000 Jets Fly Nonstop Missions

DENVER (AP) — The U.S. Air Force is capable of launching a retaliatory strike force "in minimum time," the air chief of staff said Tuesday night.

Speaking to Air Force Academy cadets, Gen. Nathan F. Twining disclosed that more than 1,000 B47 Air Force medium bombers flew nonstop missions averaging 3,000 miles in a two-week period ended Dec. 11.

He also recalled that a few days earlier eight B52 jet bombers circled the continent in 24-hour-plus flights, logging as many as 17,000 nonstop miles.

"This is the first time that the nation's strategic air force has tested the operational capability of its strike force in such large numbers during such a short period of time," Twining said.

"This demonstrated ability of nations to deliver powerful weapons by air has clearly taken the profit out of war," he noted in a lecture commemorating the Wright brothers' first flight in 1903.

The operation meant that within a fortnight the swift bombers, refueling in the air, flew a total of eight million miles.

Traffic Death Record Seen For Holiday

CHICAGO (AP) — Traffic deaths will soar to a new record during the Christmas holiday period, the National Safety Council said today, unless motorists drive better than they ever did before.

The council estimated that 660 Americans may be killed on the streets and roads during the long holiday weekend — from 6 p. m. (local time) Friday to midnight Tuesday.

The highest toll for any holiday period was 609, compiled during last year's three-day Christmas celebration.

The council said the forecast increase is based upon an extra day of holiday observation and the fact that motor vehicle deaths were running ahead of last year's at latest count.

Ned H. Dearborn, council president, urged motorists to drive as though their lives depended on it — to join in a "drive for life."

The council reported that a special study of last year's Christmas holiday traffic accidents showed:

"Fifty-five per cent of the drivers involved had been drinking, compared with a normal proportion of about 20 per cent. Speed was a factor in 85 per cent of the Christmas accidents, but enters into only 35 per cent of the accidents at other times."

COLLECT FOR YWCA FUND — About 100 Salem junior high and high school girls collected a total of $425 the past two weekends in the downtown area for the Salem YWCA campaign fund. The money will be used for the running expenses of the drive to construct a YWCA here. It does not go into the membership drive which is now being conducted.

A few of the girls who collected funds are pictured here. Seated at a table in the YWCA headquarters on E. State St., counting donations, are (l. to r.) Sue Mosher, Sandra Eyster and Mickey Cope.

Pole Seeking A Car Forgets Some Facts

ELYRIA, Ohio (AP)—A Pole who wrote to officials of several American cities and asked them help him get contributions for a new automobile forgot to mention a couple of pertinent factors:

He's a priest and needs a car to visit his scattered parishioners in and around Swiecie, Poland.

In his letters, the Rev. Father Jan Zakrsewski, 35, asked that any contributions be sent to his brother, Bernard, 36, an Elyria tool designer.

Then, said the letters, the brother in Elyria "will pay the total amount in a post office and I'll get a snug motor car in my country and my dream will come true."

The last time the brother here heard of him, Father Zakrsewski was riding around on a bicycle and hoped to buy a motorcycle.

Bernard said he believed lack of an understanding of the English language was responsible for the fact his brother failed to mention his calling in the letters.

FREEDOM JITTERS — Freedom has its uncertainties for Eva Della Casa, 20, as, nervously biting her nails, she waits at Camp Kilmer, N.J., for a plane with 100 other California-bound Hungarian refugees. Her husband, an Italian, is in Yugoslavia. Eva and her sister Erzabet have jobs waiting for them in Atherton, Calif.

3 Men Arrested For Super Market Raids

RAVENNA, Ohio (AP)—Three men who police said made armed raids on super markets in northern Ohio were in custody today.

Officers identified the trio as Charles R. Getz(21, of Loudonville, a sophomore at Kent State University; Robert Myers of Wooster and John Stanton of Orrville. They were held without formal charge for further questioning.

Officers said Myers and Stanton are in the Hancock County jail at Findlay in connection with a holdup attempt at a Findlay super market Saturday night. Getz, arrested by the state highway patrol Tuesday, is in Portage County jail here.

Getz was arrested after Myers and Stanton told officers he was implicated with them in a holdup attempt at an A&P Food Stores super market here Friday night.

The highway patrol said Myers and Stanton also told officers the trio was involved in the $4,000 holdup at Ferrara's Market in Kent on Nov. 16.

'Flagrant Fraud' Seen In Vote Count

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — The Mahoning County election board reported Tuesday at the end of a two-day hearing it found "conclusive evidence of flagrant fraud" in the counting of the returns of the Nov. 6 election.

Brian Wade, board clerk, said the ballot boxes from three polling places would be taken to Cleveland for investigation by Joseph Tholl, election inspector for Secretary of State Ted W. Brown.

The election board hearing was set after officials noted suspicious ballots during a recount of the prosecutor race. The recount was asked for by Municipal Judge Frank Franko, who placed third in the prosecutor contest in both the original count and the second.

Baby Girl Found In Depot Locker

MILWAUKEE (AP)—A telephone call Tuesday from a weeping woman sent detectives to a railroad depot where they opened locker No. 54 and found an abandoned baby girl, cradled in a gay red Christmas box.

The tiny girl was sped to County Emergency Hospital. After it was determined that she was in excellent physical condition, she was transferred to the nursery at County General Hospital.

Police said that about 2:30 p.m., a woman telephoned the Catholic social welfare bureau and sobbed that a baby could be found in locker 54 at the Milwaukee Road depot. The woman didn't identify herself, but indicated she was phoning from Chicago.

Hospital attendants said the foundling was about five days old. They described her as "a beautiful baby."

4th Victim Of Train-Car Collision Dies Tuesday

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Mrs. Leona Ridgway, 40, of Twinsburg, who was injured in a train-automobile collision that killed the other three members of her family, died Tuesday night at St. Thomas Hospital.

Her husband, Scott, 37, and their two children—Doris, 7, and Paul, 5—were killed Saturday when the automobile driven by Ridgway was hit by a Nickel Plate Road freight train.

News of the World in Pictures

THE EISENHOWERS AT HOME—President and Mrs. Eisenhower—or Ike and Mamie to be more informal—stop to admire flowers at their farm in Gettysburg.

SHE REFUSES???—Maria Schell, a lovely Swiss girl, is one of those rare movie luminaries who refuses to accept offers from Hollywood. She's a star in Berlin.

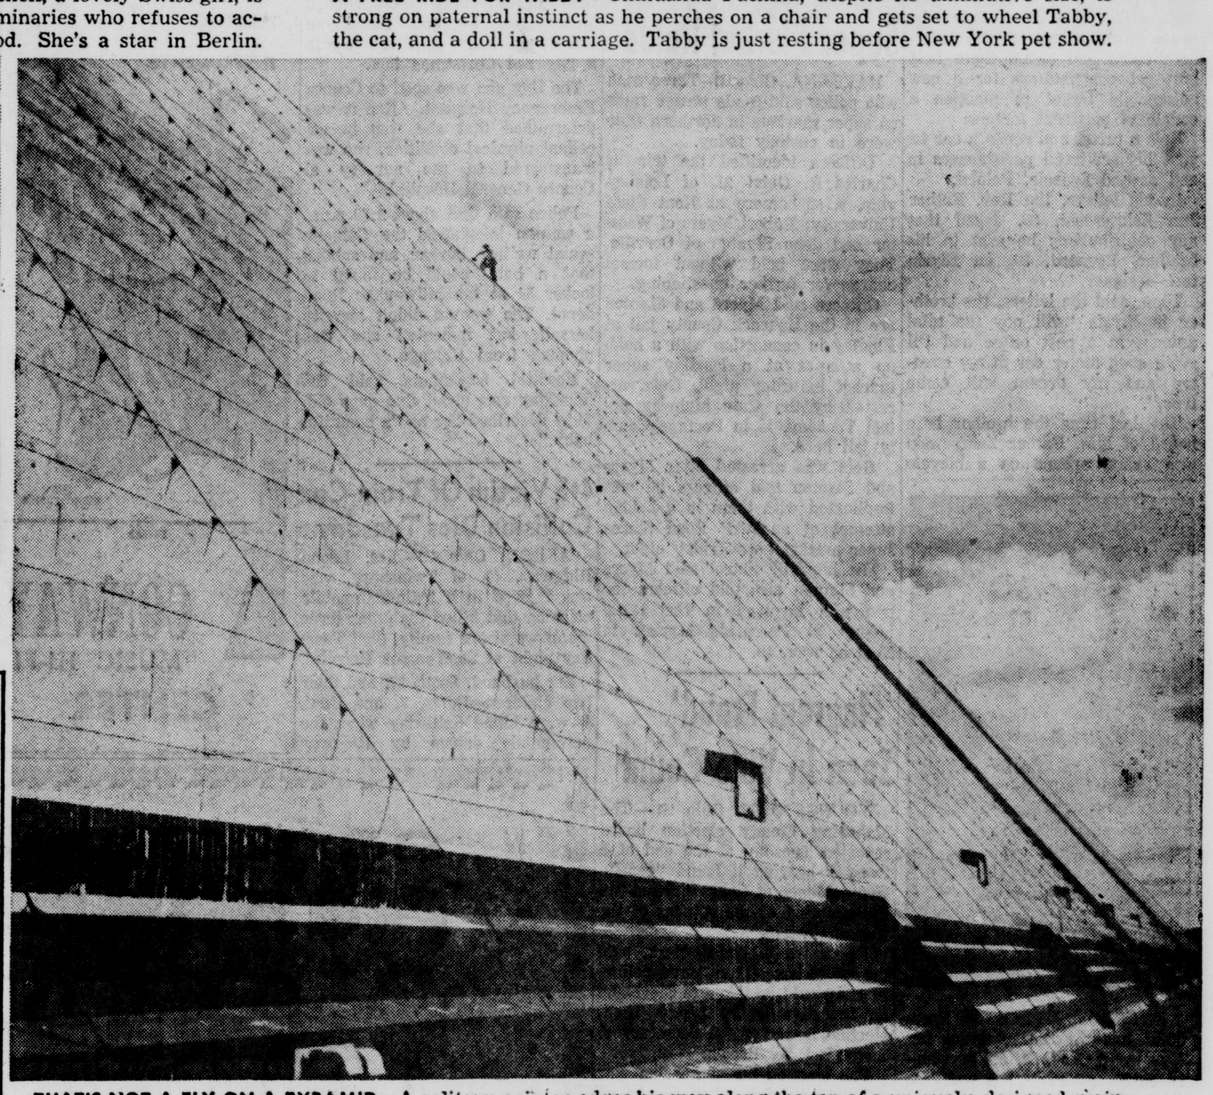

A FREE RIDE FOR TABBY—Chihuahua Pachina, despite its diminutive size, is strong on paternal instinct as he perches on a chair and gets set to wheel Tabby, the cat, and a doll in a carriage. Tabby is just resting before New York pet show.

HOSTESS AT HOME—Actress Ann Miller relaxes feet between scenes of her latest film in Hollywood.

PRECISE—This precise print in black with a touch of white and brick is among the fall favorites.

THAT'S NOT A FLY ON A PYRAMID—A solitary painter edges his way along the top of a uniquely-designed grain elevator—the world's largest single bin—at Port Cargill, near Minneapolis. To paint the giant structure, which is more than two football fields in length and will hold more than seven million bushels, requires 14 men working for six weeks. The structure will guard nearly $20 million worth of harvests from moisture, insects and wind.

Volkswagen cars can get a luggage rack adjusted to the rear. It costs about $65.

FALL FAIR

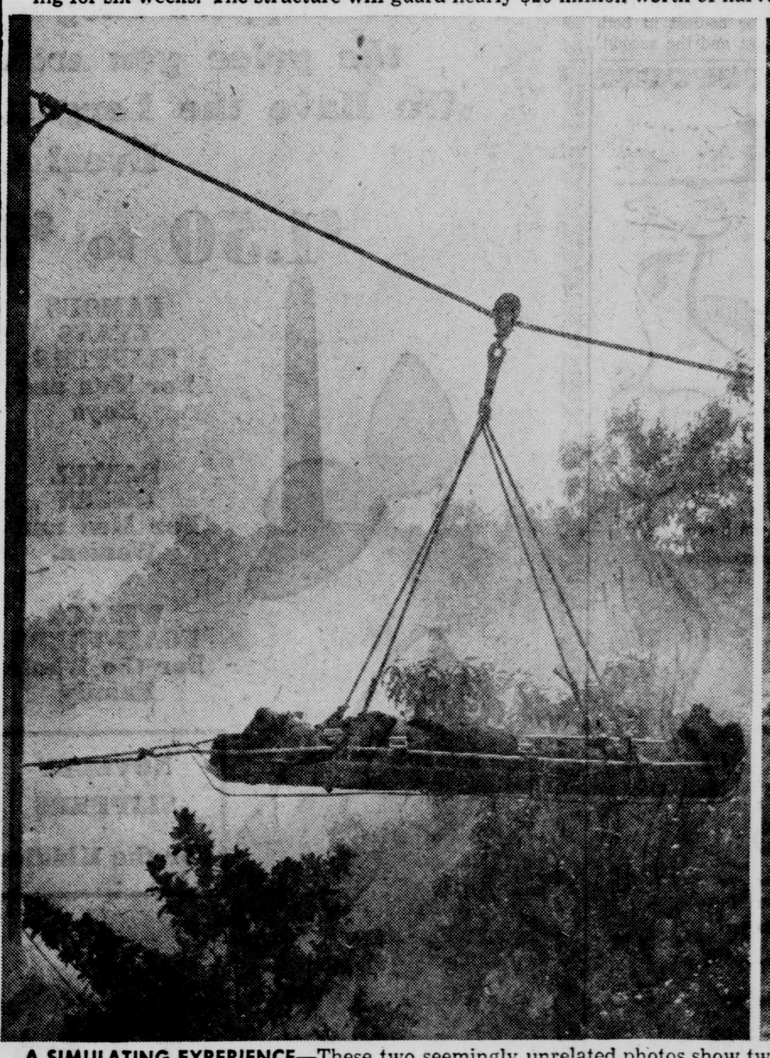

TWO for the price of one seems to be the big idea in fall fairs. At least, that's true of one held recently in Frankfurt, Germany. One of the hits of the show was a cigaret lighter with a camera built in. It has a shutter speed of 1/50th of a second and makes 16 exposures. It costs $6.50 in American money. Another favorite is a lamp that dispenses liquor. Using the principle of the air pump, a purchaser can fill his glass without having to get up. The heat from the lamp bulb does not affect the temperature of the liquid inside. The price of this liquor lamp depends on the size a person wants. Also, owners of Volkswagen cars can get a luggage rack.

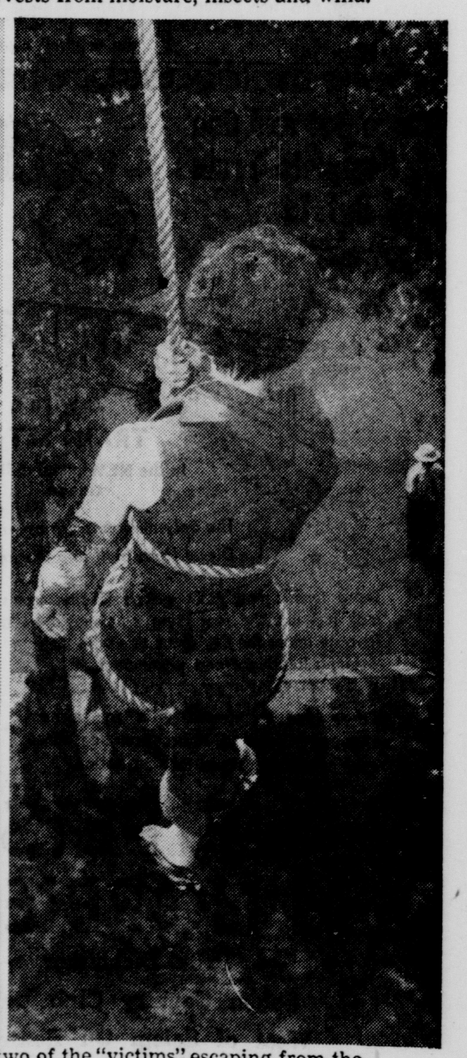

She's showing how the liquor lamp works for a buyer.

Decorative Plates Festive

With all the extra entertaining the homemaker does during the Christmas holidays, modern paper plates take on added work-saving importance.

To save his wife, the cooperative husband himself buys a big supply.

They can be utility plates for kitchen use, pastel colored for family meals, and smartly designed and brightly decorated hors d'oeuvre plates.

The variety is amazing; the labor saving enough to add years to the busy woman's life. And today paper plates are good form — everybody uses them.

Here are some snack recipes for informal holiday entertaining:

Ham Sticks

Two tablespoons butter or margarine, softened, 2 tablespoons of mayonnaise, 1 teaspoon prepared horseradish, 8 thin slices boiled ham, 16 4-inch bread sticks.

Combine butter or margarine, mayonnaise and horseradish; blend. Spread on ham slices. Cut ham slices in half lengthwise; wrap around bread sticks.

Anchovy Rounds

One 8-ounce package cream cheese, softened, 2 tablespoons milk, 2 tablespoons anchovy paste, ½ teaspoon lemon juice, 24 2½-inch bread rounds, 24 sprigs watercress.

Combine cheese, milk, anchovy paste and lemon juice; blend. Spread on bread rounds; top with watercress.

Striped Bologna Squares

One 8-ounce package cream cheese, softened, 2 tablespoons milk, 1 tablespoons prepared horseradish, ½ teaspoon onion salt, ½ teaspoon celery salt, 36 thin slices bologna (about ¾ pound).

Combine cheese, milk, horseradish, onion salt and celery salt; blend. Spread on 30 bologna slices. Stack bologna in 6 stacks; top with remaining 6 slices bologna. Chill. Cut into 1-inch pieces.

Brazilnut Snowballs Are Small, Sugary

We told you about the remarkably fine molasses cookies the Walker family of Essex, Connecticut sent us. Now we'll tell you about the small, sugary white Brazilnut snowballs they included, packed in a brilliantly decorated round tin box.

The snowballs are buttery, subtle in flavor, and the ground Brazilnuts give them a pleasing consistency. For your Christmas gift boxes, they're de luxe.

Brazilnut Snowballs

Three-quarters cup butter, ½ cup sugar, 1 egg, 2 teaspoons vanilla, 2 cups sifted all-purpose flour, ½ teaspoon salt, 2 cups ground Brazilnuts, confectioners' sugar.

Cream butter; add sugar and cream well. Stir in egg and vanilla, beat until fluffy. Sift together flour and salt; cut into creamed mixture with 2 knives or pastry blender. Stir in Brazil nuts.

Shape into small balls about 1 inch in diameter. Place on baking sheet; bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 20 minutes.

Cool slightly on baking sheet; roll in sifted confectioners' sugar.

Cool slightly on baking sheet; roll in sifted confectioners' sugar.

While on the subject of Christmas cookies, let's look at "Mary Alden's Cake and Cookie Cookbook for Children." It's just out, inexpensive and outstandingly practical for children.

Fifty youngsters tested the recipes and the book explains each recipe with step-by-step pictures in full color.

Just the gift for the smaller size Christmas stocking.

Panettone Bread Christmas Treat

To Italians, Christmas is the most important day of the year. On Christmas Eve, parents and many children and many, many relatives gather to decorate the tree. Then, in a group, they go off to midnight Mass.

After the long Mass, they all return home to eat panettone (a sweet dough bread with candied citron peel, raisins and almonds) and sip Asti-Spumanti wine. Then they go to bed to gather strength for the massive Christmas feast.

That's what our warm and elegant Padua-born friend, Nino Schiavin tells us. He is executive maitre-d'hotel of the Drake Room in New York, one of this country's most exclusive restaurants.

Sartorially distinguished in white tie and tails, Nino, still in love with his native land, dreamily recalled those family Christmas dinners of his boyhood.

First there would be broad trays of antipasto — anchovies in garlic oil, lean prosciutto ham, pimiento, hearts of artichoke, eggplant in oil and tomato, wonderful Mediterranean tuna, olives, fennel, sardines — on and on, he said.

After this teaser course — the antipasto he pointed out is just to "wake up the appetite" — came gnocchi Piedmontese, made with potato flour.

Next there would be roasted capons, geese and duck with many vegetables, such as tender Savoy cabbage cooked in wine. Usually included, he remembers, was Fegato Dolce e Agro (liver in sweet and sour sauce).

A salad of course — chicory or endive, olive oil and wine vinegar.

Dessert — a great tray of cheeses, dried fruits, nuts and clusters of Italian grapes, plus bars of hard candies and little almond sweets.

He said wistfully, "Our Christmas dinner always lasted 3 or 4 hours."

Fruit, Cognac Stuffing Good

Friends just home from France report enthusiastically about the food of the country around Cognac. That area is the home of the famous brandy, nutty-flavored butter and good oysters.

Their special stuffing for duck and their unusual chicken recipe both can add to your Christmas pleasures.

Fruit and Cognac Stuffing

To be served with duck, partridge, pheasant or other game birds.

Cover a mixture of prunes and raisins with cognac and let soak four days in a covered jar to prevent evaporation. Dot the cavity of the bird with butter, salt and pepper, and stuff with the prune-raisin mixture.

When the bird is roasted, take the cognac in which the fruit has soaked and pour over the bird. Set on fire. Extinguish the flames before the skin of the bird is burned.

Note: In place of cognac you can use lemon extract. It will be good but don't expect the recipe to have the authentic French flavor.

Cognac-Cherry Chicken

Chop 4 large tomatoes, ½ small onion, and ½ garlic clove. Saute in butter. Add the meat of a broiler-fryer chicken, cut into 8 pieces.

Brown the mixture in butter over a high fire. Add about 1¼ cups of cherry liqueur. Bring rapidly to a boil. Add salt and pepper.

Keep at a high boil for 15 minutes in the open frying pan, stirring occasionally. Add ½ cup cognac. Cook another 2 minutes at a high boil. Serve immediately.

Preserve the flavor of shelled nutmeats by keeping them in a tightly-covered jar in the refrigerator.

Green lima beans (fresh or frozen) are a good source of vitamin C (ascorbic acid).

Dice syrup-preserved ginger and sprinkle it over orange or lemon sherbet, but remember a little ginger goes a long way.

For a really good-tasting plain muffin, use four tablespoons each of butter (or margarine) and sugar for two cups of flour.

Tea Ring Hospitality Symbol

Crunchy, sweet-meated filberts add zest to special holiday baked goods. They are in good supply now, we learn from Oregon, where about 90 percent of the crop is produced.

Most filberts are sold in the shell. One pound of filberts in shell will yield about 1½ cups nut meats.

Blanch filberts with dry heat. Spread the nuts in a shallow pan and toast them in a 275-degree F. oven until the skins crack; this takes about 20 minutes. While still hot, rub the filberts with a rough cloth to remove the brown skins.

Frosted Filbert Tea Ring

Filling: Three-quarters cup chopped filberts, 2 tablespoons melted butter or margarine, ¼ cup granulated sugar, 1 tablespoon grated lemon rind.

Tea Ring: One cup scalded milk, ¼ cup granulated sugar, ¼ cup shortening, 1 teaspoon salt, 2 eggs, beaten, 1 cake compressed or 1 package dry yeast, 4 cups all-purpose flour.

Pour scalded milk over sugar, shortening and salt. Stir until dissolved. Cool to lukewarm. Add softened yeast and beaten eggs. Stir in 2 cups of flour; beat smooth. Leave dough in bowl. Brush top with a little salad oil; cover with a clean towel and let rise in a warm place until double in bulk. Punch down; then roll dough into a rectangular sheet about ½-inch thick.

Brush with melted butter, sprinkle with sugar, lemon rind and chopped filberts. A few whole filberts may be reserved and sliced for decoration. Roll up tightly, beginning at wide side. Seal well by pinching edges of roll together. Place sealed edge down in circle on lightly greased cookie sheet. Join ends of ring, seal. With scissors, cut dough 2-3 of the way through at 1-inch intervals; then turn each section on its side. Let rise in warm place until double in bulk.

Bake in a 375-degree F. oven for 20 to 25 minutes. Cool slightly and frost with 6 tablespoons confectioners' sugar, thinned with about 1 tablespoons warm water. Garnish ring with sliced filberts.

Note: If packaged hot roll mix is used for the tea ring, combine dough according to directions on package. After dough is mixed, allow it to rise until double in bulk, knead lightly, roll into rectangle and then proceed as for the above recipe starting with "Brush with melted butter—"

Book Reveals Indian Cooking

"Classic Cooking From India" is a new guide to the best in India's food preparation. Fascinatingly written by Dharam Jit Singh, well printed and attractively bound, it makes an ideal gift for a friend who wants to explore new gourmet fields.

Murghi Kabab

One 2-pound pullet, 4 tablespoons coriander, 1 tablespoon black pepper, 2 tablespoons green ginger (¾ teaspoon powdered), ½ pound onions, ½ tablespoon turmeric, 2 cardamons (seeds of), 4 tablespoons butter, ½ cup yoghurt, ½ cup heavy cream, salt.

Wash and dry the chicken. Prick it all over with a fork. Pound the coriander with the pepper and ginger and rub it well into the chicken. Pound the onions (save 2) with the turmeric, cardamon seeds and butter. The blender can be used. Mix these with the yoghurt, cream and salt. Roast the chicken for some minutes. When it begins to color, start to baste with the cream sauce. Serve with onion rings placed on the chicken with the last of the basting sauce about 10 minutes before serving. Some almonds, blanched and slivered, can be mixed with the basting sauce at the time the cream and yoghurt are mixed. Another alternative is to mix some good raisins, previously soaked in lemon juice or vinegar for some hours to soften and acidulate them. In each case, add 2 tablespoons of either the almonds or the raisins to the basting sauce. Almonds and raisins to be coarsely slivered or chopped.

Try Chicken, Squash Combo

During December when chicken and squash are so abundant. try this agreeable combination of them both.

Chicken in Acorn Squash Shells

Four acorn squash, ¼ cup butter or margarine, ¼ cup chopped onions, ½ cup canned sliced mushrooms, ¼ cup flour, 2 tablespoons (6 teaspoons) golden brown prepared mustard, 1 teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper, shake cayenne pepper, 1 cup chicken broth, 1 cup light cream, 2 cups cooked diced chicken, grated cheese (sharp cheddar).

To prepare squash: Cut squash in half crosswise; remove seeds and sprinkle with salt. Turn upside down in a shallow pan. Add water to a depth of ¼-inch. Bake in a moderate oven (375 degrees F.) 45 minutes or until tender.

To prepare filling: Melt butter; add onion and mushrooms and saute until onions are yellow. Sprinkle flour over mixture and blend well.

Add prepared mustard, salt and pepper and cayenne and blend well. Gradually add chicken broth and cream and cook over medium heat until thick, stirring constantly.

Add diced chicken. Fill squash with chicken mixture; top with grated cheese and bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) about 25 minutes or until piping hot.

If you are looking for a brightly colored fruit pie, here's another combination answer:

Cherry Peach Pie

Three-quarters cup sugar, ¼ cup flour, 1 package pastry mix, 1 No. 303 can sour pitted red cherries, drained (reserve ¼ cup liquid), teaspoon red vegetable food coloring for deeper, richer color.

One cup sliced canned peaches, drained, ¼ teaspoon almond extract, ¼ cup juice from canned cherries, 3 tablespoons butter.

Mix sugar and flour; sprinkle 1-3 of mixture in 8-inch pastry-lined pie pan. Mix vegetable food coloring to drained cherries, and place them and the peaches in pan.

Add almond extract to cherry juice, and sugar if desired. Pour over fruits. Sprinkle with remaining flour-sugar mixture and dot with butter. Make lattice top crust and flute edge.

Bake in hot oven (450 degrees F.) 10 minutes, then in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 25 minutes.

Cooked rice, to be served with meat or fish, will look attractive and taste good if you fold a little finely grated raw carrot and minced parsley into it.

Elegance Yule Cake Theme

Here's a beautiful white cake to glorify the family feast:

Elegant Christmas Cake

Two and one-half cups sifted cake flour, 3 teaspoons double-acting baking powder, 1 teaspoon salt, 4 egg whites, ½ cup sugar, ½ cup shortening, 1 cup sugar, 1 cup plus 2 tablespoons milk, 1½ teaspoons vanilla, ¼ teaspoon almond extract, filling and frosting; confectioners' sugar glaze, flat mints, silver dragees.

Measure sifted flower, add baking powder and salt, and sift together 3 times. Beat egg whites until foamy, add ½ cup sugar gradually, and continue beating only until meringue will hold up in soft peaks.

Cream shortening, add 1 cup sugar gradually, and cream together until light and fluffy. Add flour, alternately with milk, a small amount at a time, beating after each addition until smooth. Mix in flavoring.

Then add meringue and beat thoroughly into batter. Pour batter into two round 9-inch layer pans, which have been lined on bottoms with paper. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 20 to 25 minutes. Cool.

Spread filling between layers, and cover top and sides of cake with frosting. While frosting is still soft, decorate cake with a red Christmas bow and balls.

To make the bow, cut a strip of heavy aluminum foil 1½ inches wide and 6 inches long; shape into a bow. Cover with part of confectioners' sugar glaze, tinted deep red. Place bow at top edge of cake.

To make balls, glaze five flat mints with some of the glaze tinted pink, garnish with silver dragees, and arrange in a cluster on top of cake. Use rest of pink-tinted glaze to draw "ribbons" from bow to each ball.

Filling

Two-thirds cup raisins, 2-3 cup sugar, 4 egg yolks, unbeaten; 1-3 cup bottled grape juice or wine, 2-3 cup broken pecan meats, 2 teaspoons butter.

Simmer raisins in water to cover 5 minutes , or until tender. Drain and chop coarsely. Measure sugar into double boiler. Add egg yolks and mix well. Add grape juice or wine, nut meats, and chopped raisins.

Place over boiling water and cook 6 minutes, or until thick, stirring occasionally. Add butter. Cool.

Four-minute frosting and confectioners' sugar glaze; use your favorite recipe or consult cookbook.

White Christmas Pie Delicious

All through the "Twelve Days of Christmas" the beautiful college town of Williamstown, Mass., keeps open house. At the sprawling white Williams Inn, burning Yule logs, good food, carols and if there is snow, sking and sleigh rides are in order.

Our old friend John F. Treadway, who runs the inn, has asked us to visit him. John wrote there will be Christmas ham, country style; White Christmas pie and many other New England holiday treats. We are going to try to make it.

White Christmas Pie

Graham Cracker Crust: Twenty graham crackers, ¼ cup sugar, ½ cup melted butter.

Roll crackers very fine. Combine with sugar, and butter. Mix thoroughly. Reserve ½ cup of this mixture. Use remaining crumbs to line a 9-inch pie plate, pressing firmly to form a shell. Bake at 325 degrees for 10 minutes. Cool.

Filling: Six egg yolks, ¾ cup sugar, 1 tablespoon gelatin, ½ cup cold water, 2 teaspoons vanilla, ½ cup milk, 1 pint whipping cream, shaved bitter chocolate.

Beat egg yolks until light. Add sugar, continue beating until thick and smooth. Soften gelatin in cold water, place in double boiler, stir until gelatin is dissolved.

Add vanilla and milk and egg mixture. Cook, stirring constantly until slightly thickened and very smooth. Chill. Whip cream, fold into egg mixture.

Pour into cooled pie shell. Sprinkle with remaining crumbs and shaved bitter chocolate. Note: For a Christmas touch to this snowy white pie, make a poinsettia from red cherries, one for each piece.

Portsmouth Boy Wins Democracy Contest

Ted Cooper of Portsmouth was today named winner of the 1956-57 State Voice of Democracy Contest. The 16-year-old boy is a 12th grade student at Portsmouth High School.

In winning the contest, sponsored b ythe Ohio Junior Chamber of Commerce and co-sponsored by the Champion Paper & Fibre Co., Ted competed against 87 other high school students representing communities throughout the state. All had prepared five-minute broadcast scripts on the subject, "I Speak for Democracy," and the state judging was based on tape recordings of the scripts.

As state contest winner Ted Cooper will receive a trophy, five shares of Champion Paper and Fibre Company stock, and an all-expense paid trip to the national awards program in Washington, D.C., during February. He will also be entered in the national finals with the opportunity to win a $500 scholarship.

Other winners in the state contest were: Cherie Woolson of Cleveland, second place; Suzanne Romary of Louisville, third place; and Joan Kellstrom of Ashtabula, fourth place.

ABDUCTED. — California police are searching for Cloanne Mowatt Wiegner, 17, who was abducted from her parents home in Daly City, Calif. Her husband, Mike Wiegner, 17, an escapee from a mental hospital, forced the girl to accompany him at gun point, the parents said.
